Reporting from the Parish Council meeting

The parish council meeting proved to be hard work. There were difficult planning recommendations and one or two apparently minor items which needed fairly careful consideration. To deal with one of those first, the council is still looking for a volunteer from the village who would like to maintain the shrub bed at the junction of Tanpits Lane and Station Lane. Mike Taylor volunteered to help weed and tidy the bed to start with if someone was willing to take on the task. If no one came forward, the council agreed that the bed would be cleared and grassed over.

The two difficult planning recommendations were the continuing school alterations and the wind-turbine above Burton Services. The council agreed not to object to the school's plan for alterations and extensions to the infant block. However, the council will ask that, as a condition of the approval, the school be required to consider measures to alleviate the danger and inconvenience caused by the morning and afternoon school runs, and that the school be required to address the need for more on-site parking for staff and visitors.

The wind turbine involved a long debate. After discussion the council resolved by a vote of 5 to 3 to object to the 70 metre high wind-turbine at Burton Motorway Services. Cllr Mason-Hornby asked that his vote in favour of allowing the turbine be recorded. He believes that it is an appropriate site for a turbine. Other councillors believed that the landscape impact of the turbine, especially when considered in the context of other turbines in the vicinity, is unacceptable in an area of unspoilt rolling farmland. The turbine would be a visible anomaly when seen from all the many local access areas. The application notes that a minority of residents would suffer significant adverse impact from the turbine and no justification or benefit is presented for this unneighbourly proposal. One councillor considered that it was impossible for MOTO to justify the turbine to generate power to light advertising signs for the services. It was noted that the government's attitude to on-shore wind-turbines was changing, and it was felt that by rejecting this proposal now would give time to see how the national policy developed.

Separately the council noted a letter from Seren Energy who are managing the wind-turbine proposal on behalf of MOTO services. If the turbine is built MOTO would make an initial community fund payment of £20,000 of which Burton-in-Kendal would receive a part share with Yealand Redmayne. Subsequently payments of £1,000 per year would be made to the MOTO in the Community Trust.

The county council proposal to repair and maintain Slape Lane was also discussed. The county have proposed a graded stone repair to the low lying wet section. The cost is estimated at about £12,000 of which the parish council are being asked to raise £6,000. The council agreed to apply for grants to see if this sum could be raised.

It was reported that rats had been seen on Main Street. Unfortunately South Lakeland District Council no longer have a pest control service. They do, however, require land owners to control pests and they can recommend commercial pest control services.

Finally, councillors were pleased to see that the refurbishment of the milepost at Heron Syke is underway. In case you have noticed that it is missing, the cast iron plaque, which is believed to be original, has been taken away for cleaning and repair.

Wheels for Alex

Five years ago, Burton in Kendal villager Alex Doherty was diagnosed with Secondary Progressive Multiple Sclerosis at the age of 44. At that time, this father of two young children had his own business as a Professional Outdoor Activities Instructor, working, among other things with companies to encourage teambuilding. He was a highly active person who enjoyed climbing, mountaineering & adventure holidays in his spare time.

The effect of this devastating disease has been shockingly rapid over the last five years. Alex is doing everything he can to slow down this progression but he is now barely able to use his legs. As friends, to sit and watch is heart breaking – we can't slow down this horrible disease but we can give Alex some fun, freedom and quality of life to enjoy days out with Sandra, his children Maïa and Zach and the dog Tessie.

So, we are now on a mission to raise £9,000 to buy him a 'Boma 7 Off Road Wheelchair', which is the first powered wheelchair to drive up Ben Nevis! But more importantly it can be adapted as and when Alex's condition worsens. Please see www.moltenrock.co.uk for more details.

We are aiming to raise this money for his 50th Birthday in December.

Please help us raise funds for Alex's new wheels. You can support us by:

1. Making a direct donation to the Wheels for Alex bank account, Account number: 18126928, Sort Code: 010160 or cash or cheques payable to 'Doherty Fundraising' via the Village Post Office, Butchers and the School Office.
2. Sponsoring his friends and family who are doing a range of fundraising activities including walking and running the Yorkshire Three Peaks on 7

BADS NEWS

APOLOGIES!! ...

...To all those of you who were looking forward, with baited breath and wild anticipation, to seeing the BADS version of Calendar Girls at the end of June. Unfortunately, Alyson Yates has had to have an unavoidable back operation. Had it been one of us lesser mortals (with apologies to the rest of the cast and backstage crew who are also very important!), we might have been able to persuade another 'mortal' to fill in. However, Alyson is a vital and indispensable person in this production and we couldn't do it without her. We are sorry that we have had to disappoint so many people.

However, the good news is that we have only postponed the production, not cancelled it. "Hurrah!" I hear you cry and "When are the new dates?!" The performances will now be Friday 15 November, Saturday 16 November and Friday 22 November 2013.

Probably most tickets have been returned for the June dates, but as usual, nearer November, you will be able to pre-book tickets. This would be wise, as we had almost sold out of tickets for the June Friday and Saturday performances! Can I just take this opportunity to thank the many companies, businesses and individuals who have agreed to sponsor us. See you in November!

Fliss Holloway, Chair

VILLAGE CHOIR'S FIRST CONCERT RAISES £780 FOR CHARITY

The Burton Singers held their first concert on Friday 24 May in the Memorial Hall. The 'Music and Magic for a Summer's Evening' concert included a number of songs performed by the Burton Singers, vocal and instrumental solos, a trio, table magic, a musical quiz and a raffle.

Thank you to all those who attended the concert which raised a wonderful £780 to support Children Today, the charity which provides specialist equipment for disabled children, and Burton Memorial Hall. The new acoustic panels in the hall certainly had an impact on the sound quality.

The Burton Singers formed in October last year and has around 20 members. The group enjoys singing pieces from musicals, TV and films as well as folk and traditional songs. Many members of the choir aren't musically trained but are enthusiastic about singing for fun and enjoyment.

The Burton Singers rehearse on Monday evenings at Burton Morewood School and their next concert will be at Christmas. New members are very welcome, for more information contact Val Still on 07799 246415.

32nd Annual Display and Presentation of Awards

On the 13 June the 18 members of the Company and Junior sections, aged 8 - 19, were presented with their awards for the past year's work, at Burton Memorial Hall, by Cllr Roger Bingham.

This last year has been busy in both national and local BB competitions in chess and table tennis. In the National Table Tennis Competition this year for the seventh time we reached the semi-finals round 5, a great achievement against five other teams from England. Congratulations to our team: Finlay Rooney, George Pickering and Jack Wheelhouse. Thanks to Graeme Wheelhouse for coaching our team.

Over 30 Awards, including credits and badges, were presented. The Junior Promotion Certificate to the Company section was awarded to Gabriel Burt.

The John o'Gaunt Trophy was awarded to the best new member of the Company section in his first year for uniform and attendance, and this year it was actually a tie and went to Jack Wheelhouse and Joseph Hunter who were promoted from Juniors last year.

The Casson Trophy, for the best non-NCO for uniform and attendance, this year went to George Pickering.

In the Company section the Squad Medal for uniform and attendance in 2012/3 was won by Squad 2, and the Captain's Shield for uniform and attendance over the past twelve months also went to Squad 2.

Leadership: I wish to thank our young men for their commitment each week, and those in leadership in a wide variety of activities, since September 2012.

Matthew Prior (a Queen's Badge holder) carried the Olympic Torch in Morecambe last year. Queens' Badge is the highest award a young man can receive, Finlay Rooney and George Pickering completed the first part of their training for the award late last year, and look forward to attending the completion course early in 2014 prior to the presentation in May 2014. George Pickering, Finlay Rooney, and Harry Still were promoted to L/Cpl.

2012/13 has been a year of considerable achievement by all boys in the Company, and we wish to thank parents for their support. In particular, also to the hard-working team of leaders and instructors who give their time each week - Graeme Wheelhouse, Victor Hughes, John Gaskins, Derek Stevenson, and Ross Stevenson.

Many others have helped us to make this a very significant year, including the PCC of St. James' Church, the Management Committee of the Memorial Hall for use of the Hall each week, Burton Morewood School, the Holebird Trust, Community Transport South Lakeland, and Lancashire Youth Service.

As an organisation whose object is "the advancement of Christ's Kingdom among Boys", and part of St James' Church Burton, we give thanks for many who have, during the past 32 years, come to a personal knowledge of Jesus Christ, and who are now walking in discipleship.

Parents and friends enjoyed sampling the results of the boys' baking competition after the display.

Church News...

The congregations of Burton and Holme have been blessed during the vacancy (gap between ministers) to have God's word faithfully taught by a range of speakers. We are now nearing the end of this period without a minister. The role of Priest in Charge for the Parishes of St James Burton and Holy Trinity Holme was advertised in late April and early May and attracted five applicants, of these three were shortlisted.

Interviews were held at the start of June with an interview panel consisting of representatives from the Carlisle Diocese (including the Bishop of Penrith), a Simeon Trustee plus two elected representatives from both Burton and Holme PCCs. All interviewees were also shown round the respective parishes.

Following the interviews Graham Burrows, currently Assistant Curate at St John's Church in Polegate, was offered and accepted the post subject to final clearances.

We await confirmation of Graham's start date with us which is likely to be in September and look forward to welcoming him, his wife Julie, and their three children Ali, Tom and Charlotte into our villages and church family.

We thank the Lord for His faithfulness to us during the vacancy and His guiding hand in the recruitment process.

Historical Footnote

by Roger Bingham

A 'befuddled' neighbour

Three hundred years ago one of South Westmorland's most notorious residents was George Hilton 1673-1725. He lived firstly at Cappelshill Hall (whose ruins are in the meadows north of Beetham Nurseries) and subsequently at Hale. Coming from only two miles away he often mentioned visits to Burton in a diary he kept between 1700 and 1705. His boon companion was Thomas Barbon, the vicar of Burton from 1694-1722. Barbon, also, was often in trouble so that he was eventually forced to leave Burton for the poorer parish of Cockerham. Because George was a Roman Catholic he was not allowed to belong to a learned profession. Instead he divided his time - unevenly - between farming 'scotch' cattle, taking grain to Clawthorpe (Ewan) Mill, 'playin bowles', 'ashutting on Hale mosses', and 'to Holme Parke to see ahunting (sic) with Colonel Graham and the Kendalers'.

Drinking bouts, for which he recorded the expenses, invariably left him 'egregiously befuddled'. Thus he recorded 'att Bethom in the afternoon went to Mr Barbon at Burton stayd all night - 1s 6d'; 'rid out with Mr Taylour as far as Holme Parke playd with Mr Brabin both forenoon and after at backgammon - 0.6d'; 'went with Mr Brabin to Burton mett with Mr Barbon stayd till 11 - 10s'; 'went to Millthropp and after to Burton - 2s' and 'with Cornett Suckling and wife to Burton playd at cards with Dr Askew, Mr Pinder & his Lady - 7s 6d'.

Inevitably drink got the better - or worse - of him. In 1702 he was fined 'for taking out a man's eye at Appleby'; while in 1704 when 'on the road to Kendal he got fuddled and fought and gott my close torn'. In 1715 he joined the Roman Catholic Jacobite rebels but on their defeat at the Battle of Preston he escaped and, it is said, literally laid low in an underground passage at Cappelshill and so avoided being hanged for treason.

His final violent exploit occurred at Burton where after being struck by Thomas Brabin at the Manor Court at Beetham 'he vowed he would have his ends although it cost him his heart's blood'. Being 'pretty much in drink' he followed Brabin to Burton and in a 'most violent manner he got out his sword demanding a duel'. Only the intervention of George Wilson of Dallam Tower prevented fatalities. Consequently, George Hilton was able to fuddle on to his peaceful death in 1725 when his 'Gunn, swords and pistols' were valued at £1:10s while his - presumably empty - wine bottles were worth £1.

Burton Children's Family Fun Day

Despite the terrible weather we had a fantastic turn out of floats, such a lot of time and effort had gone into them.

We wish to thank the villagers, family and friends who still turned out to watch and support the floats as they passed through the village, and of course those who were in the parade for carrying on through the rain!

A big thank you to John and Molly Long who had the difficult task of judging the floats, for which this year's theme was Space. Trailer float was won by Hutton Close with Dr. Who and non-trailer float was won by the Tannery with Men in Black.

We would like to thank all the volunteers who helped organise the day, for the kind donations we received, and to the Recreation Trust for the use of the tennis courts and field. Unfortunately, as the weather wasn't kind to us, we were unable to run the races, but the stall holders and magic show carried on. Again thank you to them.

One last thing: next year's theme is BOOKS! Get your thinking caps on and we will see you next year for, fingers crossed, a brighter day!

from the District & County Councils

The new Labour/Lib Dem County Council administration is settling down while my party and the Independents are getting use to opposition which means that we hold fewer positions. I am still on the Grundy Trust which provides special grants for people with specific needs. If you know any one who may be eligible please contact in confidence either myself or Linder Myers Solicitors, 21-23 Park St., Lytham, LA7 7DU.

Following the coalition government's changes to benefits, people can get additional emergency help through a voucher scheme, but extra cash is not given. The vouchers can be used for food (but not drink, tobacco or betting) and similar tokens can be provided for food banks in Kendal, Carnforth and soon, I understand, in Milnthorpe. The Ways to Welfare database is www.intouch.ccc/welfare. I hope to provide more e-mail contacts next month. In the scheme's first nine weeks 24 people have applied for help in South Lakeland compared with 147 in Carlisle (which has the same population), 82 in Barrow, 49 Copeland, 76 Allerdale and 27 in Eden.

I have recently spent much time on young people's affairs. We now have over 600 looked-after children, who are mainly in foster care. Sadly some 'challenging' young people are difficult to accommodate and one girl has had 60 different 'homes' in a few years.

Most of Cumbria's 324 schools are judged by OFSTED to be good and our two local comprehensives are 'outstanding', but there are several schools needing special measures. In future there will be only two OFSTED categories: 'good' or 'inadequate'. A further complication is that the government is now requiring that children aged two or above from 'disadvantaged' backgrounds must be allowed to go to school. Already 600 of these young pupils are in Cumbria's schools but there is a need for over 200 more places. If they go to a 'maintained' school, and not to a privately run nursery, they are bound by the National Curriculum which includes the compulsory provision of Religious Education. At a meeting of the Standing Advisory Council for Religious Education (SACRE) I asked how parents could exercise the conscience clause to withdraw their infant from any religious element as every subject is integrated. No one knew how this would be done, but I learnt a lot of phrases unused in my 30 years as a teacher, like 'obtaining profound moments when learning through play' and 'to develop the unique child by continued improvement in embedded strong practice and excellent outcomes.' So, my campaign for plain English has failed again!

Our South Area Committee has provided better news for youngsters by continuing the A2Bnow travel cards which enables people up to 18 to get reduced bus fares for £1 single and £1.80 return to places in South Lakeland and - because of pressure from me and others - to Lancaster as well. Cards can be obtained electronically from Kendal Library or contact www.cumbria.gov.uk/a2bnow.

Meanwhile the county has to make further savings of £40m but I'm still fighting for our highways and of course our libraries.

Holme and District Local History Society's Trip to Tatton Park

The day started with bright warm sunshine which continued to bless us all day for our trip. We picked up our group and made our way by coach to Cheshire and Tatton Park, arriving in time to enjoy tea and coffee at the Stables Restaurant prior to a private tour of the mansion. The guides were excellent, splitting our party into 2 groups for the tour; starting by relating the ownership of the estate purchased by Thomas Egerton in 1598. The first house being built by John Egerton in 1716, with William Egerton later employing Samuel Wyatt to re-build the mansion in the "Grand Design", completed by later members of the Egerton family. The Egerton family continued ownership until 1958, when the estate was bequeathed to the National Trust.

We took in the various rooms of the house, many with fabulous examples of the work of Gillows of Lancaster. Unlike a lot of furniture designers and makers of the period, Gillows did not have a particular style, creating furniture to the tastes and desires of their clients. The Drawing Room, the walls of which are silk damask lined, boasted two early examples of views of Venice by Canaletto dated 1730. The Library contains one of the finest collections of around 8,000 books, housed in Gillow bookcases. The earliest book dates back to 1513. The Dining Room, set with beautiful Minton porcelain, once catered for 43 guests to dinner. By the late 19th century the Dining Room together with the rest of the mansion was wired for electricity. This was reputed to give a "brilliant effect". The Staircase/Hall and Landing boasted an elegant wide cantilevered staircase with broad treads and low risers to allow ladies, in their full skirts, to ascend the steps without indelicately "revealing their ankles!"

There are 24 bedrooms, each named after a colour or type of drapery, only some of which are open to view. The Silk Dressing Room had a mid-19th century charcoal-heated tin bath, which was filled with hot water in special cans by the housemaids. We were then treated to life "below stairs", starting with the cellars where provisions, beer and coal was stored. The Scullery and Kitchen at one time had 40 servants using the huge iron and copper pots, which must have been extremely heavy and difficult to handle, especially when filled with food! The tour concluded in the Still Room, and the Housekeeper's Sitting Room, where visitors could be received by her, and where she would manage the daily routine of the household. Following the tour, we had free time to take in the other delights of the parkland, home farm and especially the gardens.

With the weather being so warm and lovely, the gardens had particular appeal. The rhododendrons, azaleas and handkerchief trees were all in full bloom and resplendent colour in the sunshine. The glittering lakes and ponds reflected the magnificence of the surrounding parkland. Of particular interest was the Japanese garden, delicately and tastefully laid out in inspiring oriental fashion, a treat to the eyes and solace to the soul. The Vinery is impressive, giving a tropical sensation with vines, ferns and abundant greenery complete with waterfall. With so many sights and experiences to be had, a full day is needed to do justice to the gardens.

Our group took lunch in the outside courtyard, inside the restaurant or enjoyed an "al fresco" picnic in the sunshine. Following our repast, we were taken by our coach to the Old Hall. It is not normally open to the public, but again we were given privileged access. The Old Hall has its origins dating back to the 15th century, but much altered externally over time. It has had a chequered history over its 500 years, with many owners and tenants. From manor house, farmhouse to workmen's cottages, it has seen many changes.

In the Great Hall our guide turned off all lights and then lit 4 tallow candles to give us the experience of life of the early occupants in medieval England. He explained that the floor was originally just beaten earth, often rush covered. A large board was laid on trestles, where everyone sat on stools or benches, except the lord of the manor, who sat on the only high chair, higher than everyone else at the board, thus derives the expression "chairman of the board."

We climbed the stairs to the bedrooms to see the sleeping conditions in rooms with "daub and wattle" half-timbered walls. The wooden beds were rope strung, with straw mattresses, the ropes being pulled and tightened with wooden pegs, giving rise to the expression "sleep tight." The saying "don't let the bed bugs bite" was self evident from the straw mattresses and sleeping conditions in those days!

We concluded with a visit to the reconstructed Cruick Barn with its original curved cruicks intact. The "cruicks" being large crooked timbers. Our tour therefore reflected a journey through time.

We enjoyed more refreshments before departing from Tatton with great memories of a wonderful day full of interest and delight.

John Brown

The AA sign in the Memorial Hall

The AA sign in the new heritage area of the Memorial Hall used to be attached to the stone wall next to Green Dragon Farm, Burton. When the Millenium Exhibition organised by the Holme & District Local History Society was held in the Hall, the AA plaque was donated by a resident of the village, and eventually mounted and put on the wall in the Memorial Hall. To quote from a subsequent letter by an expert, "From about 1906 until the early 1930s the AA erected about 30,000 signs on public houses, garages etc. They were paid 5/- per year." In 1940 they were taken down, along with finger posts and milestones, so that any invaders would not know where they were!

There were several variations of the signs - ours suggests it was erected in the 1920s. Most were made by Franco Signs NW (the same firm who made the black and white Burton in Kendal village signs.) Fewer than fifty are still on view outside in England. The nearest one is in Hutton Roof, and there are nine others in Cumbria.

Burton W.I. NEWS

At our meeting on the 13 June the members of Burton WI firstly listened to an excellent report on the National AGM held in Cardiff given by Mrs Norah Padget, our delegate. Then our speaker, the Rev Carole Marsden, spoke on her experiences teaching 7 to 8 year olds at a primary school on a Lancashire estate. It was a very lively and enjoyable talk and she had us convulsed with laughter and also close to tears at times. The winner of the competition for a school momento was Hilda Boldy, Liz Falkingham came second. Pauline Walton won the raffle.

At our next meeting on Thursday 11 July we will be having our summer supper and auction, conducted by Julia and Ann.

Police Report for June

In the Burton area over the past month there has been a reported burglary from a dwelling, CSI attended and house to house enquiries were carried out. There has also been a road traffic collision involving a pedal cycle on Vicarage Lane. There have been a number of suspicious incidents reported, we thank you for this as information received can help to build a bigger picture.

Tackling burglary is a force priority. Recent statistics show that over 60% of burglaries are via insecure properties, with burglars getting access to homes via open windows and unlocked doors. To prevent your home being an easy target for thieves, please take some time now to assess the security of your home. The advice below will help to keep your home and possessions safe.

Top Tips to keep your house safe

- Lock doors & windows when you go out
- Remove keys from locks & keep out of reach of windows & doors
- Ensure side gates & sheds are locked
- Keep gifts, cash & valuables safe & well hidden, so they can't be seen or reached by thieves

- Consider fitting a burglar alarm & low energy dusk to dawn lighting, check regularly to ensure they work
- Ensure your house is secure, preventing someone entering when you are busy elsewhere in the house or garden
- Postcode your valuables with a UV pen, consider registering them on www.immobilise.com
- Leave a light on in a room & draw curtains when you go out at night
- Look out for your neighbour's property
- Consider joining a Neighbourhood Watch Scheme
- Cancel newspapers, milk etc when you go on holiday
- Make sure callers to your home are genuine, always ask for ID

There has been a slight increase in rural crime in our area, please ensure that your property is secure, if you would like any advice regarding security and crime prevention please contact Police via 101.

The current community priority for the Kendal Rural East area is anti-social driving in and around Kirkby Lonsdale. ## Photos Appeal from the Editors...

Readers will no doubt see that BN has grown slightly, as the last few issues have been 32 pages rather than the former 28 pages.

This is great, as it means more of you are sending us copy and events for inclusion, but we have a request for those of you sending us photos... please would you send them as taken by the camera. By making them smaller for ease of emailing they lose lots of the embedded information and when they reach us they come out looking a bit worse for wear. They will look fine on your computer screen or mobile device, but for printing they need to be a much higher quality than for screens. (We'll not bore readers with the techie reasons - if anyone has a deperate desire to know, just stop us if you see us around the village and ask us then!)

If your pics are too big too send via your email service (and we understand some of them do have size limits) you can either pop them onto a CD for us, or ring / email us and we can arrange a way for you to get the full-size images to us.

We also like to credit the photographer, so please add a note saying who took the pics, as well as where & when, etc.

A Protest of Flowers

Two families with former and serving members of the armed forces placed flowers at the Burton war memorial on Saturday 15 June, in memory of Drummer Lee Rigby, the soldier murdered in Woolwich on 22 May 2013.

The murder of Lee Rigby, a serving soldier, sent a shock wave through the country, especially within families who have members serving in the military forces. By placing flowers at every war memorial throughout the country the campaign shows support for our armed service personnel, wherever they may be based, and that terrorism in any form will not bring us down.

Anyone who would like to support the campaign is asked to lay flowers at the war memorial. The campaign may be found on Facebook:

Friday & Saturday 19 & 20 July "Kazakoshi" (Mountain Wind)

This event, originally planned on Friday and Saturday 10/11 May, was postponed, due to some members of the group being refused entry to the country on arrival at London, Heathrow Airport.

Arrangements were made to reschedule the performances for these new dates, as we understood this would provide ample time to resolve matter with the UK Border Agency and its commercial partner VFS in Japan. This has not proved to be the case. As a result we regret that we have no option but to cancel the performances.

Art Lee of Wadaiko TOKARA is very apologetic and informs us that this has never happened to them before, despite having performed and taught in the UK on numerous occasions, when no such problems have arisen with the Border Agency.

Do you want a venue for your charity event or quiz?

We can supply the venue and light refreshments free, or at nominal cost on a Wednesday or Thursday

LES MISERABLES (2012) [12A]

2 hour 38 mins. Director: Tom Hooper
Cast: Hugh Jackman, Russell Crowe & Anne Hathaway

This is the movie of the worldwide hit musical adaptation of Victor Hugo's novel set amongst the deserving poor of 19th century France. It tells the story of Jean Valjean (Hugh Jackman) imprisoned for a minor offence and then, once released, viciously pursued by the police officer Javert (Russell Crowe). Hugh Jackman gives a performance of great dignity and intelligence and has a mesmerising screen presence. All the singing was recorded live on set with the orchestral sound track added later. Even for those not normally enamoured of musicals this powerful production is hard to resist. "An awe-inspiring and colossal effort" (Peter Bradshaw, Guardian)

Unless shown otherwise, performances commence 7.30pm. Doors open 45 mins before every performance. The Box Office is now closed for the Summer. Please book online or pay at the door.
