Readers'

LETTERS

Dear BN,

Having read the Vicar's Letter about Jesus loving his children, I felt the need to also let your avid readers know that the Easter bunny, tooth fairy and Father Christmas also all care equally for children. However they also care about LBGT issues and are all round more caring than Jesus who really only cares about his own followers as long as they are "straight".

Dear Editors,

Many of you will have seen the signs on the approaches to Kendal for the Quaker Tapestry, some I hope will have visited this small museum. Although we advertise in Burton News, probably few of you have ever visited the historic Quaker Meeting House in Yealand Conyers. The building which dates from 1692 and grounds are open every day of the year.

Our Meetings for Worship, on a Sunday morning or a shorter meeting on a Wednesday morning are very different from a church service in other denominations, as we have no paid clergy, or specially trained lay preachers. Instead we meet in silence, during which anyone may speak (minister) if moved to do so. It is our collective experience, that through the silence, all can experience the promptings of love and truth, which are the leadings of God. We come from a Christian heritage, but are encouraged to be open to new light, from whatever source it may come. That extends to much more than the Christian bible.

You will however need to talk to others, or read from our library to understand what really makes Quakers tick. Perhaps the movement which George Fox founded is best known for its Peace Testimony. This is interpreted in many ways, and applies to individuals, groups and communities and nations. Quakers have always sought to develop this in positive ways, and not just as a pacifist rejection of war or preparation for war.

Principles of equality have long developed as applying widely. Very visibly, our burial ground has identical gravestones, no one however rich or important deserves a more elaborate memorial. With no paid clergy, the operation of the meeting is shared around all, men and women equally, according to their talents, not their sex. Quakers pressed for the right to celebrate same sex marriages some years before the law changed.

No one in a Quaker meeting is going to tell you what to believe, but will help you explore your spirituality, perhaps in unexpected ways. We'd be pleased to see you at any of our Meetings.

Ken Broadhurst

1927 - 2017

Ken died peacefully on 21 June 2017 two days shy of his 90th Birthday. After a career as a railwayman and then a pest control contractor Ken retired to Burton-in-Kendal in 1992 and enjoyed a very happy retirement in Burton. Ken and his wife Rosemary lived on Vicarage Lane, Burton.

Ken was an active member of a number of local societies including the Burton Fellwalkers, Burton and Holme Historical Society, Lancaster Canal Trust, Lancaster Maritime Museum, Cumbria Industrial Society, The Milestone Society and Carnforth Station Trust. In recent years villagers may have enjoyed the coach outings Ken organised to raise funds for these societies. Ken is survived by three children, nine grandchildren and one great grandchild.

BURTON MOREWOOD SCHOOL

THE LION KING JR. 'RULES'

Disney's The Lion King JR. is being performed by year 5 & 6 at the school hall 5 – 7 July. The 60-minute musical, designed for middle-school aged performers, is based on the Broadway production directed by Julie Taymor and the 1994 Disney film. The school cast contains approximately 50 students led by school staff.

We would like to open our doors to members of the village who are not direct relatives of our performers, for our exciting show on 6 July, doors will open at 1.30pm. Tickets, which will be available (limited numbers) from the school reception from 12 June, are £3.00 each. (All proceeds are to cover the substantial performing rights licence for this popular show and not for school funding.)

The Lion King JR. tells the story of the epic adventures of a curious cub named Simba as he struggles to accept the responsibilities of adulthood and his destiny as king. Along the way, the young lion encounters a colourful cast of characters including feisty lioness Nala, charismatic meerkat Timon, and loveable warthog Pumbaa. To claim his rightful place on the throne and save his beloved Pridelands, Simba must find his inner strength and confront his wicked Uncle Scar. The Lion King JR. features classic songs from the 1994 film such as "Hakuna Matata" and the Academy Award®-winning "Can You Feel the Love Tonight" as well as additional songs penned for the Broadway production.

HDLHS Trip to Naworth Castle and Lanercost

After the previous day being so wet it was with much trepidation that we set off from Burton (it was dry when we set off.) As the day progressed, despite my plea for Divine intervention, it did rain but so much of the day was indoors it did not dampen our spirits. We adjourned to a tearoom for refreshment before going onto Naworth Castle. Naworth has been the home to the Earls of Carlisle, the Howards and Dacres, for about 700 years. The present resident is Philip Howard, a direct descendant of the Earls of Carlisle. Castle Howard in Yorkshire is perhaps the more well known branch of the Howard family but Naworth is the family seat.

Naworth Castle contains wonderful portraits and paintings, and the castle has been beautifully restored by Philip Howard. It has one of the most famous great halls in northern England. Philip Howard and his assistant gave us a very informative and entertaining tour which we all enjoyed immensely.

Travelling on a short distance, we arrived at Lanercost Priory where we had our lunch break, during which we had a talk on the history of the Priory and the Howards' and the Dacres' connections, after which we had a tour of the church and Priory ruins.

Lanercost Priory was built in the 12th-13th century as an Augustinian house of prayer, mainly built with stones from the Roman Wall, as indeed were a lot of the properties in the area.

The Priory church is renowned for its stained glass, particularly by Burne-Jones and William Morris. Morris also designed the unique altar piece, the "Dossal" embroidered then hung in 1887. After restoration & conservation it was replaced in its present position in 2013. The church also has furnishings inspired by the Arts and Crafts Movement.

In 1306-07 Edward I stayed here, and there is a stained glass window to commemorate this event. Following the tour and the talk of the Priory church we proceeded to the monastic ruins for a tour. The ruins also incorporate decorative commemorative tombs to past Earls of Carlisle. We also had the opportunity to ring the Priory bell!

Our day concluded, we journeyed our way back to Burton after a full and enjoyable day, despite the weather.

Wholesome Milk From Happy Cows!

We are Tom and Clare Noblet, we farm in partnership with Max and Jenny Burrow at Whin Yeats, Hutton Roof. Last year, with falling milk prices threatening the future sustainability of the farm, we put in a small dairy and started to make some of our cows milk into unpasteurised cheese. It's been a huge learning curve and we are continuing to refine our recipes all the time. We make two types – Whin Yeats Farmhouse, a smooth, creamy textured cheese, cloth bound and buttered, and matured for at least 12 weeks, and Fellstone - a Wensleydale-type with a drier texture and fresher taste, cloth bound, buttered and matured for 8 weeks.

We are also now able to sell our lovely, fresh, unpasteurised milk directly from the farm. Straight from the cows, cooled in the tank and then bottled, we believe this is milk at its best – fresh, unprocessed, not stored or transported.

It's becoming more widely recognised that processes such as pasteurisation and homogenisation (which all supermarket milk goes through) could actually contribute to some of the ever-increasing dairy intolerances, allergies and skin and digestive disorders seen; homogenisation of milk (breaking up of fat particle) is thought to cause fats in milk to be absorbed into the bloodstream more easily, contributing to obesity.

We're pleased to be able to offer our cheese, milk and eggs for sale from the farm on Saturdays 10am – 12pm, for other times please call us, or we may be able to deliver locally.

For more information, please call 015395 66949, or see our website www.whinyeatsdairy.com. To find us, follow the road up from Clawthorpe to the top of the fell – we're over the brow on the left.

PC Observations...

Reporting from the Parish Council meeting

At the PC meeting in June 2015 the main item was the housing development at Church Bank Gardens. And it's still one of the two main items two years later. The other big item was the Quarry growth and its effect on houses in Clawthorpe.

The Church Bank Garden development received planning approval on condition that the access road to the site was brought up to adoptable standard. The development is now well under way but the access road is far from up to standard and the District Council's 'Enforcement Officer' has taken no action to put pressure on Mr Sims, the developer, to do anything about it. Residents' complaints have been ignored and unanswered. Is this democracy in 2017 in action? The Parish Council wrings its hands in anguish and laments its lack of power and influence. Like so many other issues – the Children's Home, the blocked drains etc. – it appears that the PC can only write a letter and send it off into the ether in hope.

The blocked drains saga is another example of inertia. The drains are meant to be cleaned out every 6 months by the county's Highways Department. Councillor Sarah Colyer went round the village in the pouring rain on June 10 to find that out of 36 gully drains around the village 20 were totally blocked and 16 were partially blocked. Clearly the Council has not been doing its gully maintenance job for years never mind every 6 months. Councillors decided to protest and write another letter. But what else can they do? It's a scandal.

The continuing growth of the quarry is another threat. Councillors are not opposed to the growth plans but are concerned about the possibility that blasting from 6.30am to 6pm on weekdays (8am to 12 noon on Saturdays) will become the norm. A local resident backed the Council's protest and it was agreed to that the PC should respond to a Quarry Time Extension Report to make it a condition of acceptance of the report that blasting should not start before 7.30am and never exceed a property damaging level of severity at any time. Apparently the resident's double glazing has had to be replaced many times as a result of blasting. The resident also made an impassioned plea for the Quarry extension not to encroach on the land that is now a nature reserve between the Quarry and residences in Clawthorpe. We can only hope that the present (and future) management team at the Quarry will abide by this very reasonable request. Holme Parish Council (Holme is just as affected as Burton) have made no comment.

Other items discussed included:

1. There was no police report this month.
2. Alan Wren reported that swing problems on the playground had been fixed and that SID's (speed indication device) new position on the south entry to Burton was working but needed final adjustment.
3. George Isherwood will put another coat of wood preserver onto the bus shelter to the north of the village.
4. Moira Rowley asked for maximum publicity for Burton Recreation Trust's Annual Team Challenge (a music, bar and fun-filled extravaganza) on July 15 following last year's successful event. Money raised will go towards resurfacing the play area.
5. Roger Bingham thanked Burton residents for their extremely high turnout for the June 8 election. The outcome of the election though has done no favours for County Council business which is effectively paralysed until the hung parliament gets itself sorted out. Roger lamented the recent flash flood in Burton – more evidence, if any was required, that gully cleaning in Burton should be top priority. I'm afraid to say though that it will be no surprise if this message falls on deaf ears.

6. Finally some good news – on July 20 at 7pm in the Memorial Hall, Bryan Yorke will give a short talk and then answer questions about 'Swifts in Burton'. It's the right time of year so don't miss it!

7. And no dog poo stories this month! Amazing.

Vicar's Letter...

Question Time

Imagine being a politician and trying to hold in your head all the figures and arguments so that you are ready to answer any question that might be thrown at you. Not many of us could do that well.

But there is one question that Christians are told they must always be ready to answer. Peter tells us to get ready for this one: "Why do you have hope?" (1 Pet 3:15-16)

In English 'hope' often means a vague longing that things will work out OK in the end. But Peter's word 'hope' in the original Greek is more focused. It means something that is absolutely certain but just hasn't happened yet, like the 'sure and certain hope' that is spoken about in a Christian funeral service.

Peter knew that when life in the 1st Century hit hard, people would be puzzled to see that the Christians still had hope. Struck down by serious illness, crushed by the cruelty of someone they trusted, hounded out of the synagogues by Jewish leaders or hounded to death by Roman rulers, Peter wanted them to be ready to explain why they still had a sure and certain hope.

And Christians ought to expect that people will ask the same question today. The more we are struck down by serious illness, crushed by the cruelty of someone we had trusted, grieved by violence and suffering in every corner of our world, saddened by chaotic politics, or hounded to abandon our Christian beliefs, the more we should expect people to wonder why we still have hope and to ask us why.

Peter tells us his answer: In this world we can never put the people and things that we love beyond the reach of death or decay but God has trounced death in Jesus who now holds all the levers of power in earth and heaven. Nothing can stop Jesus bringing in a new order where his triumph is shared with all those whose only hope is in him. We have "an inheritance that can never perish, spoil or fade". (1 Peter 1:3-4)

Perhaps you've been puzzled by an apparently indestructible hope in someone you know – go ahead and ask them, "Why?" See if they're ready with their answer!

Sincerely
Graham Burrows

HISTORICAL FOOTNOTE

BURTON'S ARMS

Heraldry attracts less attention by historians than it did in former times. Back in 1888 Edward Bellasis' "Church Notes" on Burton Church described coats of arms on the monuments to the gentry, which nowadays could only be understood by specialists. Thus he records the arms on William Atkinson's plaque of 1825 as 'pale az. & gu. double-headed displayed or, on chief engrailed of 3rd, rose of 2nd between 2 martlets of 1st (Atkinson) impaling sa, per chevron az & sa., chevron ermine between 3 estoiles ar, Langdale. Crest of Atkinson eagle rising ppr. Wings displayed (ermonois) right claw on bezant'.

Equally fulsomely he described the arms on the 1835 monuments to Thomas Cotton of Curwen Woods on which are '3 cotton hanks'. Other more prominent arms are displayed around the village. On at the A6070 southern entrance to the county and Burton are Cumbria's coat of arms, granted in 1974, which pinpoints features of parts forming the new county including the 'parnassus' flowers for Cumberland, red for the Furness District of Lancashire, white roses for the Sedbergh, formerly in Yorkshire, and the ram's head from Westmorland's crest. The supporters are the Red Dragon referring to Cumbria's Ancient Briton origin and the Dacre Bull of Cumberland. They stand on a base representing Hadrian's Wall crossed with two red bars for Westmorland which derive from the Barons of Lancaster, once Lords of Kentdale.

Further up the road, red bars also appear on Westmorland's Arms (granted in 1926). These are also displayed in the The Memorial Hall*. They include the apple tree for the old county town of Appleby and are crowned by a Herdwick ram's head impaled with a shearman's hook. Modern times are represented by the Lion and Unicorn Arms of Queen Elizabeth II on, ironically, The King's Arms. But Burton's biggest and more unusual arms are those of the Duke of Edinburgh (granted in 1947) on the Royal Hotel. His arms exemplify Prince Philip's royal pedigree as they show three lions for Greece and Denmark (he was born a prince of both countries), two 'pallets' for Battenberg, a castle on a mount for Mountbatten, with caps on the turrets for Edinburgh. The supporters represent Hercules and a Lion Rampant which wears a 'naval coronet' representing the Duke's service in the British Royal Navy.

So far it's been a strange "how do you do" with our Swifts and although we did get good numbers in early May on their arrival, the numbers seem to have dropped off a bit since. Some of the villagers are checking them on Thursday nights when we set off from the Memorial Hall at around 8pm and try and check out their status. So far we have not yet been able to confirm birds present at a couple of the regular breeding sites, but there again we could be missing them! Hopefully we will soon get on top of the situation and have good news to report soon. If you want to join us on our Swift watch please come along you would be most welcome. If you want more information we have our own Burton Swift webpage on the internet which you can easily access from the following address: <http://burtonswiftbirdstudygroup.blogspot.co.uk/>

I wonder where does time seem to go? Already we are half way through the twelve week Swift season and by the end of July our Swifts will be departing Burton and setting off on their long journey back to Africa.

We are well on with the bird breeding season and most of the little beauties have gone quiet now with just the occasional flurry of song from the many Warblers we have in and around the village. The Warblers who have travelled all the way up from Africa and the Continent to be with us seem to be in good numbers this year especially our Willow Warblers and Chiffchaffs with more territories than ever being recorded. We have also done well this year with the Garden Warblers, Redstarts and the Whitethroats.

It was over a week ago since our Cuckoo was last seen (14 June) and he or she will be well on their way back to Africa by the time you read this. As a rule our local Cuckoo departs somewhere around the middle of June and her offspring will be raised by the unsuspecting foster parents before they themselves leave during early August. It beats me how they know how to get back to Africa on their own steam without being shown by a parent bird. It's obviously all built into that egg! (see illustration)

Some of the rarer butterflies are now on the wing and I have been seeing regular numbers of Small Pearl Bordered Fritillaries, Dinghy Skippers and lots of Small Heaths whilst up on Hutton Roof. By the time this article goes to print I would also expect to start seeing Ringlets, and the larger fritillaries like the Dark Green Fritillary and if we are really lucky maybe the rarer High Brown Fritillary and another special we have here the Northern Brown Argus.

This is one of the best times of the year for me, because it is the start of our rare orchid season when we have all those specials like the Dark Red Helleborines and the Broad Leaved Helleborines in flower on Hutton Roof. I love looking for them and taking photographs of them. I have over the years done surveys and counted no less than 2,000 of the Dark Reds and some 500 of the Broad Leaved. Hutton Roof is the second most important area in the whole of the United Kingdom for the Dark Red Helleborines. And it gets better! The two mentioned orchids do get together and hybridize and produce a beautiful strong plant which goes by the name of Epipactis Schmalhauseni (as yet no common name). Hutton Roof is the only place in the whole of the UK where these rare hybrids can be found and as a rule I usually have somewhere around the mid-teens to check each year. We also have many rare variations of Orchids which I guess make it a attraction to the many orchid lovers.

At first I wasn't sure what they were because they looked very much like little snakes, but I soon realized that they were a group (not sure of pluralities!) of Slow Worms huddled up together and right on the summit of Hutton Roof. I was difficult to try and count them but we do estimate there were four in number. What surprised me most was the place I found them, because the area would have very little in the way of water.

Hope you have a enjoyable start to the summer with equinox having just gone. Time just seems to go so quickly. If you want to get in touch my email is: bryan.yorke@sky.com

Burton Recreation Trust

Burton Team Challenge Saturday 15 July From 1.30pm at Burton MUGA

Following on from the success of last year's event, Burton Recreation Trust will once again be hosting the Team Challenge day on Saturday 15 July.

The event is open to all ages and will consist of various team games and challenges; nothing too strenuous, it's more about fun than ability!

To take part, you will need a team of four which can be made up of mixed ages. If you can't get a team of four, don't be put off – there will probably be somebody else waiting at the field ready to bump up your numbers (committee members if nothing else!)

Entry for the challenge event is £5 per adult and £2.50 per child, with a prize of £100 for the winning team. The challenges will start from 1.30pm, but teams can enter at any time during the afternoon until entries close at 4.00pm.

Alongside the challenges, there will also be a bar, BBQ and hog roast open on the field all day. Live music will be provided by local band Rendition on the main stage, alongside an 'open mic' acoustic tent for anyone wanting to have a go at entertaining a local audience. If you would like to try your hand on the open mic, please contact the committee prior to the event. Entry to the field will be charged at £1 for those just wanting to come along and enjoy the entertainment (and refreshments!)

Music and entertainment will run on in to the evening so be sure to bring your dancing shoes!

We hope to see lots of you there on the day; it really was a brilliant event last year, much enjoyed by all ages. As the 10K run is not going ahead in the autumn, the Team Challenge event is also the only fundraiser for the Rec Trust this year.

We are tantalisingly close to reaching our target of £45,000 for resurfacing the MUGA and are hoping for a great turn out on Challenge day to enable us to go ahead with the plans.

Equally, if there are any generous people or businesses who can't attend on the day and would still like to make a donation towards the funds, please feel free to contact Carl Jackson on 07866 456677 (Chairman).

It would be great to see the village getting behind the event so that we can

Roger Reports...

From the County & District Councils

June Report

Firstly may I say THANK YOU for returning me as your County Councillor for Lower Kentdale. Thanks also for a friendly reception, for coffee breaks and for use of 'comfort stations'. In all my walking round, mainly in glorious weather, I never heard a cross word from anybody - so thanks again.

As in previous elections our turnout was the highest in the area at 52.4% joint equal with our neighbouring County Division of Kent Estuary. Our statistics were Roger Bingham - Conservative 1715, Simon Blunden - Green 97, Paul Casson - Labour 139, Gordon Higton - Liberal Democrat 510; Majority 1205. The votes cast in Lower Kentdale were 2463 compared to Kent Estuary's 2686. Overall the Conservatives were the most successful party increasing their seats from 25 to 37, while the Labour Party after losing 11 seats, obtained 26 seats. The LibDems remained about the same with 16 seats although in South Lakeland they lost seats in Furness and Windermere but gained Appleby in the Eden District. Independents also gained 5 seats, one in Workington previously a solid Labour seat. Another surprise was that a Conservative won the traditionally Labour seat at Cleator Moor.

The slackening of Labour representation on the west coast means that the parties are geographically more balanced across the county. With no single party having an overall majority it seems that a coalition county administration will be formed. This is the normal pattern for Cumbria as, since its inception in 1984, only twice has a single party had total control - once Labour in 1997 and once Conservative in 2009. This time an exceptional situation has arisen with the announcement of a General Election on 8 June as no County Group wanted to go into coalition with another party as this might harm their vote nationally. The obvious solution might have been to postpone forming a new county administration until after the General Election. But this would be illegal as a new administration has to take office within 25 days of the local election. Thus, it has been agreed that temporarily, the current Labour LibDem coalition will carry on until after 8 June. Whether we will know the composition of the new Cumbria administration before the next Burton News awaits to be seen. Even so by then we might all be sick and tired of politics!

July Report

As my June Council News was 'deferred on account of the General Election' this month's contribution will be brief. In any case I have little to report as because of the election there have been no meetings. But, as often before, Burton's electorate provided a splendid turn-out. At 9pm on Election Day our Polling Clerk at the Memorial Hall said that 800 voters had come through the doors and there were also 250 or so postal votes. Out of an electorate of 1124 this seems too good to be true so I'll try and check the figures and report back asp - providing I'm not deferred again for yet another election!

At election time I had two major issues - flooding and planning. 'Flash' the 29 May deluge certainly was. Having escaped, in the nick of time, from Hutton Roof Fell Run I was greeted at home by the sight of my gravel path being washed away and by the first of the 'what do we pay our rates for?' e-mails and phone calls. Yet, half an hour later when I reached Burton the waters had mainly sped away, though the dampness hadn't. Nevertheless, I have been onto the council about improvements to drain sizes along Main Street and virtually everywhere else, and for other improvements like extended kerbs on Tan Pits Lane. Yet again I have pressed for the clearing out of the existing drains. A few days after the flood I saw our lengthsman and a parish councillor digging out two 'gullies' by the primary school which had been totally blocked by tree roots. No wonder we ask, 'Why do we pay our rates?'

Planning problems over the Church Bank Gardens site continue. Throughout the election period I forwarded to the councils various complaints including allegations of failure to reply to correspondence. On the Monday following the election I reported my concerns to SLDC's Chief Executive. I currently understand that County Highways have received an undertaking from the contractors that the Church Bank road will be brought up to adoptable standards. I am also pressing for a confirmation that re-making the road will not be postponed for an indefinite time until the last dwelling is occupied. I hope to be able report enforceable agreements in due course.

The Little Cumbrian Tea Room

I am happy to announce that The Little Cumbrian Tearoom at 3, The Square, is scheduled again for Saturday 2 September. This year we would like to raise money for the Christie Hospital. Earlier this year you will be aware that the Christie Cancer Research laboratories were devastated by fire. It would be wonderful to think that we had contributed to the re-building of this amazing facility.

Once again we have decided to keep the formula unchanged so that, as previously there will be 'sittings' at 10.30, 11.30, 1.30 and 2.30. However we are increasing the price to £8.00. There will be freshly baked scones with fruit and cream, a lavish variety of fresh cakes and as much tea or coffee as you can drink....and of course the live piano! We are toying with the idea of offering smoked salmon sandwiches at the 1.30 and 2.30 sittings. Whatever next! We also have a Sherwood Luxury Picnic Hamper that has been generously donated for the raffle.

If you've been before, please come again. If you haven't, you're in for a lovely surprise. To reserve your table please call 01524 781350. We look forward to welcoming you.

Burton Memorial Hall

Annual General Meeting

On Monday 12 July the Hall held its AGM, with a slightly smaller number of parishioners in attendance than last year.

Having operated for the last year without an elected Chair in place and with the Vice Chair stepping up to cover meetings, it was proposed that the Vice Chair be elected as Chair, and a new Vice Chair be sought. This was agreed. The existing Secretary /Manager and Treasurer were also re-elected unopposed. There were some changes to individual members of the Management Committee as people stood down and were replaced. Groups and societies named in the Hall's constitution continue to send one representative to each of the Hall's Management Committee meetings.

The past year has not been quite as busy as previous ones in terms of fundraising activity but bookings remained good, with the yearly accounts showing a slight increase in income but a bigger increase in running costs, which led to a drop in the end of year surplus (income less expenses) of almost a thousand pounds. Despite this drop the Hall remains financially sound, although anticipated necessary repairs to flat roofs would make a big hole in those funds. Other repairs planned for the coming year include the stage area and the car park.

Due to a lack of volunteer helpers some of the usual fundraising events are not happening this year, so others have been sought. The Committee is grateful to the Smithy Inn at Holme for allocating one of its regular Quiz Nights, which raised the welcome sum of £150.

Our annual Strawberry Saturday will take place on 1 July, 2pm-4pm in the afternoon, and everyone is welcome. It's free admission, just pay for what you eat and drink.

Later in the year we are planning a Scrumping Saturday (14 October), a similar event to Strawberry Saturday, but focusing on apples and apple-related foods, both savoury and sweet. If you'd like to help plan this please do get in touch!

Our regular Christmas Bingo sessions will be happening in late November and December, these are vitally important fundraisers for the groups who benefit from them, so please do come along and support them and have some fun.

Looking ahead to 2018, we are considering new events, so if you have ideas why not get in touch and talk to us about them?

Holme Cricket Club

The 1st XI have made an excellent start to the season on their return to Division 2 and after 6 matches are second. Holme won comfortably by 7 wickets at Ingleton after chasing 164 with all batsmen contributing. Andy Cotton was top scorer with 42 not out. Coniston were comprehensively beaten at North Road. Lee Barnes top scored with 44 as Holme posted 163. Coniston were blown away for only 39 as Stuart Hunter took a staggering 7 for 12. The match at Ambleside fell victim to the weather before Holme returned to winning ways against Trimpell. Trimpell seemed set for a large score until U-16 players Alex Yates (5 for 30) and James Bennett (3 for 8) triggered a collapse that saw the last 8 wickets fall for only 13 runs. In reply, stand in skipper Paul Duckett scored 61 and Andy Cotton 40 as Holme won by 4 wickets. The team also advanced to the quarter finals of the Hackney & Leigh Cup after a close victory against Ingleton. Mike Halhead scored a half century as Holme won by 2 runs.

The 2nd XI have continued to progress under Sam's shrewd captaincy. Holme lost to Morecambe 3rd team for whom former Northern League player, Dennison scored 124 out of Morecambe's total of 189 for 5. In an otherwise even contest, Holme were bowled out for 120. The match against Kirkby Lonsdale lasted less than 2 overs due to the weather but Holme chalked up their second win of the season by beating Shireshead 3rd team by 4 wickets. Shireshead were restricted by veterans Ted Littlefair (2-12) and Allan Strong (2-21) and could only score 97-6 from their 40 overs. A third veteran, Dave Varcoe top scored with 33 as Holme won with several overs to spare. Holme also went through to the next round of the cup at the expense of Carnforth 3rd XI. Highlight of the victory was a blistering 39 not out from Calvin Hunter-Dale as Holme won by 5 wickets.

The Junior section has made a successful start with victories for the Under 11's against Lancaster and Bolton-le-Sands and for the U-13's against Sedgwick Editorial...

At our Editorial Committee meeting this month it looked like being a quiet issue, possibly struggling to fill 28 pages, but suddenly the copy flew into our inbox and we have enough to fill 32 pages again.

We do like this size of issue, as it means we can spread the adverts out and create a more interesting layout. Fewer pages makes layout more difficult and feels advert heavy. So, please do keep sending us your news and stories for BN.

We'd far rather have too much than not enough, if it is not time critical we can hold something back if we are getting full, but most of the time we have just enough to fill our pages.

So, whatever you would like to share with fellow villagers, be it a story, a poem you have written, a favourite recipe, or an account of a trip you have made, please do send them in: the more the merrier.

It wasn't very quiet one Saturday in June, when the village suffered a huge storm which seemed to last for hours. As we always do, your editors unplugged the phone lines and shut down the computers to protect against power surges and damage.

Sadly others were not so fortunate, as a lightning strike which reportedly hit the main metal roof of the Memorial Hall appears to have travelled down the phone line from the Hall back to the telegraph pole and thence went on to spread itself along the lines to various houses, where some routers and other types of electrical equipment were damaged.

The weather in June seems to have ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous, with daytime temperatures up in the high 20's (28C on the wall of our north facing front porch) for several days, then back down to damp raininess that is more reminiscent of autumn than mid-summer!

One of the surprises of the extreme (for us at least) heat, was the root ginger we keep in a bowl in the kitchen for cooking with has actually started to sprout green buds, does anyone know if it is possible to grow it on and what conditions it will need? We quite like the idea of growing our own ginger!
