Dear Editors

The Poppy Appeal

On behalf of the Royal British Legion please may I thank all those in the village who contribute so generously to the Poppy Appeal collection.

Special thanks to the local businesses, the School and the Church who look after the collection boxes. Last year's collection raised over £1,000.

Two years ago, in common with most villages, it was decided for a number of reasons not to carry out a door-to-door collection last year.

It is increasingly difficult to find a time in daylight for the collection when people are at home. And the collection itself necessarily requires the collector to ask you directly for a donation and to an extent this reduces the voluntary nature of the donation.

Nevertheless, some people in the village may have welcomed a visit from the collector and were sorry to see the door-to-door collection dropped.

If you would like a collector to call on you this year please let me know (telephone 782198) and it will be arranged.

Yours sincerely,
Peter Smith

Dear BN,

PARKING

Today, 23/10/2018, the recycling wagon was unable to enter St James' Drive due to the thoughtless parking by a number of individuals who left insufficient space for the wagon to pass through. I have no way of knowing if the offenders were residents or visitors.

This has resulted in SLDC having to reschedule a collection later in the week leaving pavements littered with blue boxes and bags. SLDC instructions are to not put bins/boxes beyond the curtilage of your property (that is NOT on the pavement.)

I believe there was also an ambulance that encountered similar difficulties but eventually gained access. This could have been a life or death situation.

Parking in general on St James' Drive is a disgrace with cars parked hard up against garden walls and overhanging bushes.

I challenge anybody to walk a full circuit of the drive without having to walk on the road.

Come on, show some consideration for children, push-chairs, aged/infirm. Cut your bushes back, don't put your bins and boxes on the pavement and park sensibly.

Charles Ashbrook
St James' Drive, Burton

The Butcher's Shop

In the piece that I wrote on the Butcher's shop in the last issue, I omitted to give credit to the large group of residents in Cocking Yard (about half) whose representations persuaded the Butcher to introduce a new and very effective method of cleaning the yard after the delivery van has departed each time. The residents are very satisfied with the change. This matter is now closed.

FLOODING

Review of the Flood Forum meeting of 23 October 2018

The meeting was chaired by Cumbria County Council flood resilience manager, Mr Doug Coyle and a presentation by Mr Colin Parks. Also in attendance was Ms Carol Last, Community Liaison officer and Ms Emma Shield.

The meeting was attended by some 30 members of the public representing the village of Burton and Dalton. Available was a copy of the updated report of the findings, which listed works carried out to date and what was still to be carried out. Also in the report are statistics and pictures of the flooded areas and rain fall on the dates of the floods. The report also lists who is responsible for each element of the works going forward. The report does not say exactly when or where works are to be carried out as it all comes down to funding.

Unfortunately, the funding applied for in July of this year has been turned down and another application can not be submitted until July of 2019. Funding was turned down as it is considered that Burton and area are not a high enough risk. Works carried out in Burton will only affect a few houses, so monies have been diverted to other areas that will protect a greater number of homes. When asked where does that leave Burton, we were told to turn to our own community and work together. When asked about funding for these works we were told, "there is no council funding for these works".

Various members of the audience asked about the bigger picture of what the future plans may hold. We were informed that "at this stage surveys are still being carried out, and until complete, no definitive plans could be made", however, ideas were offered by the audience. These have been noted down by the Council members and taken away.

The issue of gullies, culverts and drains generally still being blocked was raised and that joined-up thinking was required to ensure that the roads were swept, the gullies, culverts and drains cleared and at the same time the survey of these drains be carried out as all this work needs to be done under the protection of traffic lights. This was taken on board as positive plan by the Council. It was promised that all this work would be carried out in two weeks time. Burton Flood Forum co co-ordinator, Chris Nolan, will be notified of the exact date so these works can be monitored.

In summary, the meeting was well attended and good points made by the audience and the points noted by the Council. We did not learn anything new however which was a little annoying. The Council were thanked by various members of the audience for their efforts so far. One or two points raised heated exchanges from the floor. These items have been noted by Chris Nolan who will take action to address.

An Appeal

Last month we advertised for an Editor for Burton News. To date we have had no applications. We have also amended a part of the text of the ad to make it simpler: we would be willing to consider a job-share application.

The remaining six members of the Editorial Committee are fully committed to keeping Burton News in circulation.

Without an editor however, we will have no choice but to close the newsletter. That would be a most serious decision, one we would make with considerable reluctance.

People look forward to reading the newsletter each month. Without BN the village would lose its voice. It would lose letters; general information about upcoming events; advertisements; news of societies, churches and other religious affairs; theatre; children and young persons' events; charities, clubs and societies... And much more besides.

Burton would not be the same without BN. Help us to survive and grow.

BURTON-IN-KENDAL PSiCA (Partnership in Conservation Areas)

UPDATE

The 3 year Burton PSiCA Project has started preliminary work ahead of the January 2019 start date.

Just a reminder to everyone, the Parish Council is in partnership with SLDC and Historic England and the PSiCA project aims to provide improvements in the Conservation Area. This includes improvements in The Square, grant aiding the repair of a number of listed or historic properties and the preparation of a Village Design Statement and a number of community workshops/talks.

The 3 main partners have formed a 'Key Stakeholders Group' together with the appointed architects and Cumbria County Council. The KSG will meet regularly and will keep the community updated and also feed back from the community into the KSG.

SLDC's Conservation Officer is sending letters out to some of the owners of listed or historic buildings in the Conservation Area to briefly explain the scheme, the significance of their building within the scheme and to ask permission for the appointed architects/engineers to carry out surveys in order that costings for repair works can be undertaken and the level of support which can be offered for repair works to be determined.

At the same time, the architects, Crosby Granger, will be surveying the Public Realm area, i.e. The Square, and preparing a scheme and ideas for public consultation which is scheduled to take place either December or January. Cumbria County Council will be consultees to the scheme, and any flood relief or other works in the Highway will be taken into consideration during the planning stage.

Crosby Granger will also be starting work on a Village Design Statement (prepared as a Planning Guidance) to help influence the design and quality of future building in Burton-in-Kendal. There will be a workshop for this, probably in February 2019.

CAfS (Community Action for Sustainability) will be appointed to deliver talks and workshops on heritage/sustainability topics and deliver 5 or 6 workshops to the community. There will be a Design Workshop day delivered by the RIBA Places Matter and Crosby Granger Architects.

A MEMORY – THE LAST OF THE LINE

Sheila Lois Margaret Bainbridge

1922 - 2018

Preston North End had not had much success in 1922 until the afternoon of March 18th when striker Archie Rawlings scored a winner. Aunty Maggie was within earshot of the mighty cheer at the very moment my cousin, Sheila Lois Margaret Bainbridge was born. It was the beginning of a life full of interests along with a dogged determination to protect and perpetuate the long family history. Her life ended peacefully on the afternoon of Wednesday 26 September 2018 with her loyal and devoted Carers in attendance.

Sheila's father, Thomas Bainbridge was one of seven children whose father Thomas, farmed at Greenlands, Tewitfield. Her mother, Margaret was the only child of the second marriage of Robert Wilson. The Wilson family lived in Burton for over five centuries and owned quite a number of properties in the village. Thomas and Margaret were married in St James Church and started their married life in Rochdale. After eight years, they returned to Burton with Sheila and her younger brother Keith who lived at 'Hemplands' and died on 26 July, 2014. The family lived from here on with their Wilson grandparents at Hordley House; a property inherited by Margaret and finally by Sheila and so ends the Wilson dynasty.

The house and grounds date back to the 17th century. Alterations and additions were made in 1800. The property and land was sold by John Porter of Goosenargh to Laurence Parkinson of Burton-in-Kendal for the sum of £172. Laurence Parkinson was described as a 'Writing Master of Accounts'. A title deed, dated 8 February 1731 stated that the property and land was known by the name of Hordley on the west side of the King's Street. The sum of £172 was paid in lawful British money, signed and sealed in the reign of His Majesty King George II by John Porter and witnesses.

In 1800, the Coach House was built, Hordley House was altered and at the same time the walled garden was created. Much of the ground was taken over with a shrubbery, a tennis court and box hedges around the flower beds. Every tree had a story to tell. A Holm evergreen oak remains of which there are few remaining in the country. So many eyes have gazed through the gate of "The Enchanted Garden". Sheila spent many hours tending the garden. It is a place in which to enjoy peace and tranquillity and the sound of nature.

In the aftermath of the Jacobite march south, tales were told of Highland soldiers hiding in local houses and Bonnie Prince Charlie calling in on his way south through Burton.

Being last in the line, Sheila inherited the last few family properties in the village but it was the well-being of her tenants and their families which were more important to her than bricks and mortar.

From the outset, Sheila had a great love of learning. Her early years were filled with books; writing; collecting and observing the nature around her. Encouraged by her mother, she made good progress through the local school and Kendal Grammar School. Journalism was her chosen career which she pursued at a local level. Her contributions were published in The Westmorland Gazette. As a keen stamp collector, her articles were also welcomed by Philatelic Journals.

Sheila had many friends, young and old. A love of the countryside and its wild indigenous animals, preservation and conservation were shared with the late Mr Francis Shrigley-Feigl of Cragg hall Wray. He constructed observation hides at Hale Moss where Aunty Maggie, Keith and Sheila spent many hours viewing alongside him.

There were regular visits from family friend Mr Alfred Wainwright. I expect they discussed walks but their common interest was also cats. Those feline friends lie today in their own sacred spot within "The Enchanted Garden". Nelson, an early arrival was one of a batch of kittens belonging to the mother of her dear friend Dorothy Woodhead.

Sheila was a loyal gem of a friend, a patient listener and an interesting raconteur. She was also a firm believer in "the hand of fate". Her conversation was never dull. It could be enlightening, historical or dramatic with a touch of the unexpected. Her friends meant so much to her and their birthdays were never forgotten. That was her life and she will be sorely missed.

BURTON MOREWOOD SCHOOL

Bread kindly baked by Mrs Threlkeld

We all came together in St. James' Church in our last week before half term to celebrate Harvest Festival. From the story of Handa's Surprise from Reception, to handing out the amazing baskets and gifts of food throughout our community, it was a wonderful way to celebrate how lucky we are, and to think about those less fortunate than ourselves at home and all around the world.

A small selection of the many parcels received

Our literacy lessons are coming alive with our newspaper articles on the Blitz and in maths we have been concentrating on calculations, making sure we're confident in mental and written methods of addition, subtraction and multiplication.

Year 5's science lessons have been looking at how and why things dissolve. They are continuing their topic on Victorians and through their art they have been studying printed wallpaper by the Victorian artist William Morris. In their literacy lessons they have been reading 'Street Child' which is set in Victorian times. They are all looking forward to their trip to Fellside, where they will live the life of a Victorian – both rich and poor! Maths lessons have been focussing on converting decimals to fractions.

Learning about Tudor food and clothes

Years 3 and 4 are continuing with their Tudor topic. They had an amazing day with a visit from 'Makers of History LLP'. They spent the whole day dressed as Tudors, experiencing the day to day life of a Tudor from the food they ate, crime and punishment to The Plague. Many people have heard of the Black Death of 1348 and the Great Plague of 1665, both killing thousands of Londoners, but these famous outbreaks are only two of nearly 40 that London suffered between the 1300's and 1600's.

They created the Tudor Rose, re-enacted the travels of Sir Francis Drake and also learnt a Tudor dance.

Learning about Tudor dance

In literacy Year 4 have been writing mystery stories for a competition. In maths they have been measuring angles and lines. They are still studying sound in science – looking at how sound travels and the importance of ear defenders! They are still enjoying their tag rugby in their PE lessons.

Year 3 have been looking at vertical partitioning in their maths and have been learning two new terms: augend and addend. When adding two numbers together, the first number is known as the augend and the number added to it is known as the addend. In science they have been looking at the digestive system from start to finish!

Year 2 have been counting up and down in 2s, 5s and 10s and continuing their work on place value. They are working hard on their cursive handwriting and also learning about nouns and adjectives for their Big Write on their favourite places to visit. Topic is still focussing on The Great Fire of London, studying what materials the houses were built from. They made a timeline of events and compared the fire-fighting equipment of 1666 to the present day. They have also enjoyed dancing with Mr. Wren.

In literacy Year 1 have been enjoying reading 'Not a Stick' and in maths they have been looking at number bonds. In art they have been studying super-machines and have had great fun painting them.

The new outdoor Reception area is finished and looks amazing. The children are so excited!

Reception children worked very hard on their first Harvest celebration, painting animal masks and acting out the story of Handa's Surprise. They made fruit collages, tried paper weaving and did a science experiment writing messages on bananas! They also took part in their first show assembly and were very proud to show off all their wonderful work that they have been doing this half term.

Roger Reports...

From the County & District Councils

We have not had a county or a district full council since last I reported. But Cumbria's South Area Committee has been particularly busy with highways. Apart from the Drovers Way resurfacing I have no more important Burton schemes to mention, as the 2019-20 list has not been compiled. Even so, I will press flood abatement, congestion caused along our stretch of the A6070 when the M6 is closed, and the persistent need for pavement repairs. This year, surface dressing was impeded for two meteorological reasons - the 'beast in the east' at the start of the financial year and then the heat wave which melted the tar. Consequently £170,000 of funding from 2017-18 was 'unallocated', but far more irritatingly our gulley cleansers (which are hired from a private firm 'Saphire') were unable to operate for 24 out of 60 programmed days. Amongst reasons given were: staff absence for 'training' and scheduled holidays. County Highways have now made a further contract for newer and, it is claimed, better machines for next year. There were reports that residents in some areas have obstructed works because they have not moved parked cars. Again I repeated my complaint that the reason we annually have weeds growing out of gullies (drains) on Church Bank/Main Street is that temporary traffic lights have to be used because of the central white lines. I have asked that lights should be allocated on one duay to several neighbouring sites where they are required so that - as each job and moving time takes about an hour, several awkward gullies could be cleansed in one day. Also, in a recent survey they have found out that the number of registered gullies in the county have increased from 1001 to 1430. I and other members supported a move for the county to enforce owners of land (mainly domestic gardens) to cut their hedges back and also clear out any verge drainage runways. According to my historical records this has been the local occupier's responsibility since at least at 1691. On another tack it was noted that the Great North Cycle Run had boosted visitor numbers, but that prolonged closure of the Windermere Ferry and problems on the Lakes Line have harmed the tourist-related economy. Finally, as the dark nights are here please let me know of any street lighting problems.

1914-18 - COMMEMORATION

2. POETRY AND REMEMBRANCE

There are hundreds of poems written about the First World War by combatants and non-combatants alike.

The attitudes and views expressed vary considerably from the optimistic, sentimental or patriotic -

“And they are fortunate, who fight” (Siegfried Sassoon);

to the realistic depiction of fighting and the horrors of warfare; and bitter satire:

“Happy are men who yet before they are killed Can let their veins run cold...” (Wilfred Owen: 'Insensibility') and

*“The air is loud with death,
The dark air spurts with fire...”* (Isaac Rosenberg: 'Dead Man's Dump')

Although the War is remote in time now, there is a considerable interest in the poetry, particularly of poets such as Sassoon, Rosenberg and Owen, though others such as Rupert Brooke, Rudyard Kipling, Charles Sorley, Edmund Blunden, Robert Graves, Edward Thomas, etc, etc have their devotees.

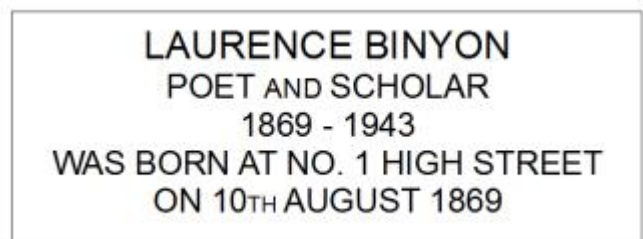

Is it possible to establish the “best” poet or the “best” poem of the War? Of course not, for opinions will be so divergent; however...

The local dimension

In November 1990 Gil and I went to a talk in the Chapel of the King's Own Royal Regiment, the Priory Church, Lancaster. The talk was given by Dr Jean Moorcroft Wilson who had written a biography: 'Isaac Rosenberg – The Making of a Great War Poet'. In her talk she said that Rosenberg had some connection with Lancaster, though not directly, as he had never visited the city but at some time had been in the bantam battalion (for men under 5' 3”), the 11th bt The King's Own Royal Lancaster Regiment. (He was killed on the Somme on 1 April 1918). Further, she said that there should be a statue to Rosenberg in Lancaster as, she said, there is no other poet of note from the city. Gil and I looked at each other with some disbelief, for, not more than a few hundred yards from the Priory Church is the birthplace of the writer of probably the most famous verse about the First World War in the English-speaking world.

I refer, of course, to Laurence Binyon. At No. 1 High Street, Lancaster is this stone memorial:

He studied at Oxford and after graduating took up a post at The British Museum, while continuing his interest in poetry. He married in 1904 and had three children. On the outbreak of the war he was 44 years old (too old to enlist) and, being moved by the numbers of casualties, wrote 'For The Fallen' (1914), the fourth stanza of which is most famous. In 1915/6 he went to France as a hospital orderly. After the war ended he returned to The British Museum and later (1933/4) was Professor of Poetry at Harvard University.

So – what is the poem? I expect you have all guessed by now. The first line is often misquoted (most recently in the title of Peter Jackson's recent film which re-masters First World War moving film) but is often recited at Remembrance Services in the UK,

Canada, Australia and New Zealand. Here is what he wrote in the fourth stanza:

*“They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.”*

In 1985 he was among 16 poets of the Great War to be commemorated in Poets' Corner in Westminster Abbey.

VICAR'S LETTER...

Finger-Lickin' Good News

A white moustache and goatee, thick-framed glasses and a string tie, he is now world-famous for his restaurants. But not everything went well for the young Harland Sanders. When he was only 5, his father died. Later he argued with his step-father and left home. He worked on a farm, then briefly joined the army. He was fired from several jobs for fighting and was well known for his constant swearing. By the age of 40 he had a petrol station and was trying to provide for his family through the Great Depression. Setting up the old family dining table and chairs in a corner of the petrol station he started selling food. One of his best meals was fried chicken and Harland developed a novel pressure-fryer and his still-secret blend of 11 herbs and spices. Eventually 'Colonel' Sanders began to sell franchises – the first 'Kentucky Fried Chicken' opened in Utah in 1952. There are now 22,000 world-wide.

Even after he sold the business Sanders continued to be the instantly-recognisable face in the KFC advertisements, but as he grew older he knew something was wrong. He later wrote, "If God created the world – and I know He done that – and I am part of His creation, then I should have a close relationship with Him. I didn't and it bothered me ... all the success I'd had with my franchising business ... still left me with a hollow feelin' ... I was a good citizen and all that. But all this while I knew I wasn't right with God."

He was persuaded to go a church meeting where it dawned on him that this was exactly the mission of Jesus – to take on himself the weight of our guilt and so to put us right with the God who made us. Sanders began to put his trust in Jesus rather than in his own effort to be good enough.

It "just seemed like a great burden was lifted off my shoulders. I'd never felt anything like that before, and here I was seventy-nine years old."

Colonel Sanders continued, "I pray to God Almighty my story will encourage you also to commit your life to Jesus. If you will, no matter what hard times you may go through – if you keep turning to Him, acknowledging Him, and honouring Him in all you do – He'll help you through."

Sincerely
Graham Burrows

HISTORICAL FOOTNOTE

THE ARMISTICE - Burton Celebrates and Mourns 100 YEARS AGO

Throughout the district and (as the Westmorland Gazette put it), "The Empire", the Armistice - which, on Monday 11 November at 11 am, ended, in effect, the fighting in the First World War, was celebrated enthusiastically in Burton. As it was still some years before domestic 'wireless' came in and there very few telephones in the village the glad tidings arrived, at about 11.30am, via a telegram to the Post Office stating, "Armistice signed; hostilities ceased : Secretary to the GPO, London". Then, as word sped round, flags and bunting were soon displayed on almost every house including, it was noted, on the homes of the 'fallen'.

At the National and Morewood Schools loud and hearty cheers were given for the King, army and navy, followed by the National Anthem; after which the pupils had the afternoon off. But, "at Burton the rejoicings were postponed until Tuesday evening when fireworks of all descriptions were let off in all directions. Lieut. F. Bainbridge supplied music on the gramophone for dancing in the open air. To finish the evening an impromptu band paraded the streets singing songs of the allies."

At a Victory Service, the Vicar, The Rev. H.V. Urquart chose the hymns, "All People that on Earth do Dwell," "Thy Way not Ours O Lord" and "Art Thou Weary", which no doubt echoed the mixed feelings of the time. Indeed, the Armistice did not bring an end to the mourning. Amongst the dead announced in the Gazette in the next two weeks were the Victoria Cross winner, the Rev Theodore Hardy, Vicar of Hutton Roof, and Captain Willink from Burneside who was also the son-in-law of Westmorland's M.P. Colonel Weston.

Burton's recent war dead included Driver Michael McGrath. "He was with Mrs Bindloss at Hilderstone Farm for two and a half years before enlisting. Death was due to pneumonia. He was 23." Days later a "Burton Air Ace" also died. He was Cadet Leonard H. Nutter from Thorny Croft, Burton. An Old Boy of Heversham Grammar School he had been one of the best football and cricket players in the district. Before the war he was for two years a Bank Clerk at Liverpool. Though he was an airman he, like Driver McGrath, died of pneumonia brought on by influenza, a contagion which eventually killed more people than who had died in the War.

I guess all I can write about this month is on the subject of Birds and more particular visible bird migration taking place over our village. It's that time of year for me when all spare time is devoted to visible bird migration counts which I am usually taking stock from Mike Taylor's fields off Vicarage Lane, from first light (at the moment about 07.30hrs) for up to four hours each morning from the middle of September until around the middle of November, and unless there are any emergency family issues that's where I will be.

It's been a strange sort of year especially with the passage of Chaffinch, with numbers exceedingly low in comparison to past years, so what could this possibly mean? Well I really don't know, maybe they are using a different routing this year (doubt it!), maybe it's to do with the high temperatures we have been getting for the time of year (yes go along with that) but the shortfall could be down to a host of different reasons. So most days I have been getting just over 100 birds whereby normally by now I should be getting around the 400 mark! But after saying all that today (21 October) all seems to have changed and I managed to get a count of 507 Chaffinch and most of them passed over during light rain. There you are, it would have been so easy for me to pack up and go home, but I hung in there and was rewarded with fabulous large migration parties with some parties of 50 birds, 30 birds etc etc.

Besides Chaffinch I am getting good numbers of Linnet, Goldfinch, but so far little in the way of continental wintering thrushes, e.g. Fieldfare and Redwing, although monitoring stations throughout the country have been getting them in their thousands. It's all down to the wind directions on the day of their passage and so far this year we have been getting mainly southerly/south west winds which takes the birds far away from Burton in their routing, but if they come through when north winds are blowing there is every chance you will get them coming over our village. They can be meandering in the flight lines which will follow the line of Hutton Roof, or another one will be where they appear to come from somewhere around Truckhaven area and then follow the sides of the A6070 past Longlands and at somewhere around Deerslet will cross over towards Cinderbarrow, and then across to Arnside and Sandside, and then cross over the estuary and head up the Lythe Valley. Other times they may use the Lune Valley and go through Lupton towards Kendal.

I have had some great counts this year of Pink Footed Goose with lots of skeins going overhead and also lots more that can be seen through the binoculars passing Arnside Knott and Levens in the far distance. Also had a couple of records of Whooper Swans passing overhead. Unusually it was noted that some of the Pink Footed Goose were heading north which is so unusual at this time of year, I did seek advice on this strange situation and it was suggested that they had probably overshot their original destination Solway and it was thought they were making their way back (adjustment). Not sure about that advice but it will have to do for now!

It's been great watching the Starlings arrive from all parts of Northern Europe including the Baltics, they come in on a direct west flight and usually they have come down low by the time they hit our local airspace. They are arriving daily and usually peak around the 25 October. It really is well worth a visit to Leighton Moss for around 5pm in readiness to watch the Starlings come into roost after a day's foraging, and if you are lucky you may even get to see their fabulous murmurations.

Harlequin ladybirds – and swarms of ladybirds in general, have you been getting them? It's about one week ago and there were lots of reports throughout the north of local infestations, and we in Burton also had reports of large quantities of ladybirds of which included large numbers of the more recent Harlequins.

Burton Sports and Recreation Trust

With lots of events over the next few months being advertised we thought we had better explain the change of name from Burton Children's Sports Committee to Burton Sports and Recreation Trust. Some time ago we decided as a committee that we would join forces with Burton Recreation Trust but we had to choose the right time to do this and from September we formally did this.

Due to low numbers on both committees it was felt that joining forces and becoming one bigger committee made more sense. Nothing changes with our events calendar, all the events we have always done will still go ahead, but now we have the MUGA as well we are making plans moving forward to have more events for all the community to be able to be able to enjoy this space. We are still doing jobs up there and putting the finishing touches to this area, such as CCTV, but moving forward want it to be a resource all the village can use more accessibly and as a group of volunteers we are working hard to do this.

Burton Sports and Recreation Trust are holding their annual bonfire and firework display on Monday 5 November up at the recreation ground (MUGA) behind the Royal Hotel. There will be a best pumpkin and guy competition on the night with prizes for the winners, these need to be there by 7pm ready for judging. We will also be serving hot refreshments and beverages, such as hotdogs and hamburgers, on the night and with the gates opening at 6pm there is plenty of time to grab yourselves a drink or a bite to eat before the event gets going. The bonfire is been lit at 6.30pm with fireworks starting between 7.00-7.30pm. Entry is £3 per person or £10 a family, but children of age pre-school and under go free. This is set to be a great display, as we have had such great support over the year we will be having the biggest display yet, so we hope it will be well supported.

On Thursday 29 November is the Burton Sports and Recreation Trust's Christmas Bingo. This is always a popular and well-supported event and with a chance to win some brilliant prizes such as shopping vouchers, bottles of wines and spirits, and also prizes for the children it is set to be a great night of bingo for all the family.

Children's Christmas Parties

One of our favourite events for us to do as a committee is the children's Christmas Parties which are being held on Sunday 2 December in the Memorial Hall. This is a free event, for all the children of the village and Burton Morewood School and nursery, that Burton Sports and Recreation Trust put on every year and is one that continues to be very popular.

From 2-4pm we have the younger ones party: this is for newborn to Yr 2 and all children must have an adult with them. This is a fun-filled couple of hours with party games, party food and a visit from Father Christmas.

5.30-8pm is the older ones party: children in Yr 3 to Yr 6. They get to have a couple of hours adult-free (supervised by Sports and Recreation Trust members ). With lots of fun and games, a disco and party tea, this is a chance for them to have fun with their friends.

These parties are able to be free as other events we hold over the year help us raise funds for them, which is why we are always looking for support from the village, and with our Christmas Bingo coming up on the 29 November it would be great to see a good turn out, and with other new exciting events in the pipeline for next year for all the family and community able to be a part of, we hope the next year will be another great year for Burton Sports and Recreation Trust.

Burton Tennis Club

Burton Tennis Club has had another successful season in the Lancaster and Morecambe League. Our ladies team topped their league and our mixed team were runners up in the second division of the mixed league.

In addition, the mixed team also won the John Robinson Handicap Cup for the third year running. All this whilst getting used to our wonderful new courts!

Whilst our summer season is now over the winter veterans league has just started. We offer winter membership if anyone would like to come and play.

Registered Charity No. 501134

Death of Stalin (2017) [15] 106 mins

The one-liners fly as fast as political fortunes fall in this uproarious and wickedly irreverent satire. When the tyrant Joseph Stalin drops dead in Moscow in 1953 his parasitic cronies engage in a frantic power struggle to be the next Soviet leader as they bumble, brawl and backstab their way to the top. "Superbly cast and acted with icy ruthless force" (Peter Bradshaw – Guardian)

Royal Northern College of Music

Thursday 8 / Friday 9 November 7.30pm LAUGH OUT LOUD

'Laughter is the best medicine in the world'. So with this in mind, the Company will be sharing their prescription: an evening of smiles, chuckles, giggles and guffaws, a whole night of laughter. 17 talented actors present examples of the many genres of comedy that have been enjoyed through the ages, performing pieces written by legends such as Noel Coward, Victoria Wood, Alan Bennett, Rossini, Congreve, Wesker, Stoppard, Lewis Carroll, Shakespeare and Willy Russell. Something for everyone and definitely an evening with a happy ending.

Tuesday 13 November 2.30pm - Tickets £7.50
DEGAS, PASSION FOR PERFECTION
EXHIBITION ON SCREEN journeys from the streets of Paris to the heart of a superb exhibition at the Fitzwilliam Museum in

Saturday 17 November 7.30pm

THE WIT & SONGS OF NOEL COWARD

Pianist and entertainer, Peter Gill presents a tribute to the wit and song-writing skill of that most English of Englishmen, Noel Coward, who said of himself "I am an enormously talented man and there is no point in denying it". Born in 1899, Coward was an actor, writer, composer, director, producer and, in later life, painter – excelling at them all. Peter will remind us of his dazzling wit and perform such gems as - A Bar on The Piccola Marina, Don't Let's Be Beastly To The Germans, Mrs Worthington, There Are Bad Times Just Around The Corner and Mad Dogs & Englishmen. 'A splendid evening's entertainment' The Noel Coward Society. Beyond Eternity Productions

Friday 23 November 9.30am

MURDER – JUST WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED

In Edinburgh, between 1827 and 1828, science and murder cling together in a dance of death. Sixteen people are slaughtered by Burke and Hare and the Devil and all his works prowls the streets of 'Auld Reekie'. Dr Robert Knox, scientist, doctor and anatomist supreme, waits in Surgeons Square to buy bodies for the sake of advancing medical knowledge. His door is chapped, a body is delivered, money is paid and no questions are asked. A trail of terror leads from West Port to the dissection table of Robert Knox. Murder will out and a price must be paid, even by the anatomist supreme. Doctor Knox will have to pay that price. Commissioned by The Royal College of Surgeons as part of the celebrations for the re-opening of the Surgeons' Hall Museum. Isosceles Theatre.
