LETTERS

Dear Editors,

Thanks to the First Responders for their turn-out in the wee small hours of Saturday 11 April - turned out to be non-life threatening, but did not seem so at the time. Thanks again whoever you are.

(2) "Money is at the root of all evil," really, Roger? Of all people you should know that this is a misquote of I Timothy ch. 6, v. 10, which says (as any fule kno) "the love of money is at the root of all evil", which is not the same thing, is it? Your misquote might be fifteenth century but it's still a misquote, leaving the Good Samaritan up a creek without a paddle. After all, he had to have the readies to buy the stuff to assist the victim, did he not? Does that make him the first First Responder, I ask myself? Who knows.

Denis Wood,
Clawthorpe

Facing the Chop

Despite the butcher's shop stocking only free range beef, pork and lamb from local breeds, Burton is in danger of losing its butcher. Although prices have remained at the 2012 level when the shop opened here, sadly due to the general down turn in the economy and the change in shopping habits these aspects combined do not augur well for this village tradition. The owners wish the shop to remain open but, are aware there is a question mark over the future of the business.

BURTON CHILDREN'S SPORTS COMMITTEE

Saturday 18 April saw most of the youths of Burton descend on Wright's Leisure at Warton Crag for a day of paint balling in the woods, it was very well attended by 33 kids from year 7 to year 11. After a safety briefing and bacon bun breakfast the kids were split into 2 teams, with some of the attending committee members also taking part (all big kids at heart!) and off they went for the first round of games, "Defending the flag."

They took turns in attacking and defending their team flag over some rough terrain towards a raised fort area for 20 minutes at a time, this resulted in a draw as both teams successfully defended their positions. After a barbecue lunch it was onto the final game of the day, "Capture the flag."

Much like a game of football this needed an attacking front, some midfield action, and a back row of defence to pepper the opponents trying to get through to capture the flag. The game was fairly evenly matched for quite some time before eventually the blue team managed to break through and capture the red team's flag before the end of the game, those left with ammunition were treated to being able to shoot at the committee members on the target ground at the end of the day.

We, as the Sports Committee, hope everyone who attended enjoyed their day out and look forward to receiving suggestions for ideas for next years "Big Kids Day Out."

HAPPY 100th BIRTHDAY!

PC Observations...

Reporting from the Parish Council meeting

Thursday 16 April Meeting

A "full house" of councillors attended with only two members of the public – both members of the "press" who report to the Parish News and the Westmorland Gazette respectively. It looked like a short meeting but the Church Bank Gardens development was on the Agenda so you never know.

Roger Bingham announced at the beginning that he had been representing Burton at the county council for 35 years. I don't think he was looking for a gold watch but in any case many thanks to him. The Police report was noted but PC Mandy Coleman did not appear and so it was not discussed.

Chairman Mike Taylor left the room when a letter about "mud and debris deposits on the public highway" was discussed reference to Vicarage Lane. "It had been brought to the attention to the council that mud from farm machinery was causing a nuisance etc. etc." After a short discussion about who had done the reporting, the PC decided that this was county council's business because it referred to a public highway.

The letter's threat to charge somebody (they did not say who) if they had to clean up the mess was not really discussed but when Mike Taylor came back into the room, he said that farmers do clean the roads up every day. Someone might have reported mud on the road during the day, but farmers need to do their job. The PC decided to ask Roger Bingham to intervene with county council Highways Department and also the PC will write to the Highways Network Manager to allay their concern.

Regarding the proposed Church Bank Gardens housing development, all the issues still remain in the air – the footpaths, the access road, the siting and number of affordable housing. Still the developer is pushing councillors to support the proposed development, which they are loath to do until there is greater clarity about what exactly the developer intends. A recent letter from county council Highways has proposed repositioning the 30 mph signs at Church Bank (they are now at Clawthorpe) which appears to compound the confusion as everyone knows (except county council Highways apparently) that irrespective of the development, the road is dangerous because of speeding vehicles. The county council looks very out of touch with village concern here; over to Roger Bingham again to try and shed some light on this latest county council bloomer. At the same time, the PC will write to county council to question their thinking about moving the speed restriction signs.

The PC agreed to lay a wreath in the churchyard to commemorate VE day on 8 May.

Amongst councillor reports, Jane Hopwood, together with others, has been filling in potholes with stone donated by the local quarry at Plain Quarry. Jane lamented the way in which dogs were allowed to "do their business" by dog walkers around the picnic area. It was disgusting. Jane also reported that the Burton Recreation Trust is in "dire straits". It needs an injection of younger trustees to help manage the tennis courts, bowling green and the annual 10k race which receives grants of £1,000 per annum. New volunteers are sorely needed. Moira Rowley offered to help with the race organisation and she has also put in a grant application to replace the see-saw at the Boon Town play area. Paul Rogers reported that the Neighbourhood Watch scheme has been resurrected at Hollowrayne.

Next meeting on 21 May, preceded by the Annual Parish Council meeting starting at 7pm, in the Memorial Hall.

Annual Daffodil Show

The weather Gods smiled on our Daffodil Show again with glorious sunshine greeting the faithful members of the Show Committee and Brownie, Guides and Rainbow leaders early Easter Sunday.

With this year's show being a fortnight earlier than last, the Daffodils on display were in full bloom with hundreds selected as singles, trios or 9 flowers. The same cannot be said for the rhubarb. The cold weather had stunted early signs of growth weeks previous, with only 1 home grown bunch on display that, in all honesty, would struggle to be placed in a cress class!

Across the classes entries were strong with over 170 cakes, flowers and crafts being entered.

This year's Judges were Moira and Julian Rowley who spent more than an hour deliberating over their decisions before issuing the winning tickets.

All of the entries were added to the auction of promises that followed the announcement of the results. The Auction of promises got under way just after 1pm and saw enthusiastic bidding from start to finish with Neil taking to the hammer with real gusto. For over an hour he kept the attention of the bidders, selling everything from bags of kindling to a reappearing, rare Spaniel picture that the successful bidder bought for the second time (having bought it at a previous auction and dare not take another dog picture home!)

Following the auction the raffle was drawn, as the admin ladies did a rough tally on the amount raised. It is with great pleasure that we are able to announce that the event raised over £1800.00, the proceeds of which will be distributed between the local Guides, Brownies and Rainbows.

The Committee would like to thank all who turned up to set up the day, all the sponsors for their varied promises and those who continue to dig deep to support our local community groups.

Many thanks.

Historical Footnote...

... by Roger Bingham

PREHISTORIC BURTON

Modern research is increasingly revealing more about our area's prehistoric origins before written records, which are the basis of history, were kept. Early accounts were highly speculative. Even so some factual germs are contained in the mythology. Thus the Brigantes, Lakeland's best known prehistoric tribe, were said to be 'as wild and uncultivated as their native hills and subsisted principally by hunting the spontaneous fruits of the earth wearing for their clothing the skins of animals and dwelling in habitations formed by the pillars of the forest and enclosed by interwoven branches.'

As there is no evidence that human beings penetrated our area immediately after the Ice Age ended around 10,000 BC such a description would probably apply to the Middle Stone Age (or Neolithic) people who arrived about 8,000 years ago. Having initially occupied settlements along the southern edge of Morecambe Bay they would within a generation or so have broken into the birch and willow thickets which were eventually supplemented by pine, oak, hazel and elm. Using stone axes, some of which would have come from the so-called Langdales axe factories, the tree cover which provided the materials for their round huts was partially cleared. They were still hunters and gatherers; so armed with harpoons, clubs and flint-tipped weapons they obtained easy prey from the area's abundant wildlife.

Locally, mammoths were extinct, though evidence from a cave on Arnside Knott revealed that bears lived in our hills. But fish were plentiful and deer roamed the whole area between the coastlands up to Ingleborough, where an antler harpoon has been found. Flint scrapers picked up throughout Kentdale show that they cured skins for clothing. Agriculture started around 3,000 BC when the soil was scratched for cultivation on the more sparsely wooded hillsides, possibly including parts of Farleton Knott and Dalton Fell. Fixed activities meant that settled communities emerged and probably the first cluster of huts around Burton were created about 2,000 BC, in the era when the New Stone Age began to merge with the Bronze Age.

This period coincided with the arrival of new immigrants, known after their ceramic artefacts which bore distinctive decorations of cord marks, as the Beaker People. By now tentative trading contact had been made with the wider world and a jade axe of continental workmanship has been found near Casterton. Grave evidence from a six foot tall skeleton found at Kendal show that these early ancestors were a sturdy race. Later, as was revealed by the discovery on Dallam School site at Milnthorpe of burial urns containing human ashes, the dead were cremated. But from the start of the Iron Age our ancestors for the next 3,000 years until the late 20th century reverted to burial of the dead.

So far, not even round the possible Iron Age stone groupings at Dalton, no traces of human beings have been unearthed. But it is just possible that during the current building activity, especially in areas of early settlement like Church Bank, that more knowledge of the first Burton folk will come to light. If so, perhaps someone might like to have a DNA test in the hopes of discovering that they may be descended from our area's prehistoric inhabitants.

THANKS!

Particular thanks must go to Callum Graham, Neil and Ruth Shaw, and Carl and Helen Jackson for their amazing efforts on the day and for the months of hard work that goes on long before Easter Sunday. Special thanks also go to Neil and Ann at the Kings Arms for hosting the event for us, and to Moira and Julian Rowley for judging all of the entries. You all did an amazing job! Thank you so much!

I must also add a huge thank you to everyone who came along and supported the event by entering the competition classes, donating promises for the auction and raffle prizes. ## We Went to War Too

Our village is at peace again and there's the smell of new-mown hay. In the dull haze of midsummer she lies sleepily dreaming, as she has done for many a year now. There is nothing to show that she has ever heard of war, or listened to the heavy drone of bombers feeling their way through the darkness of long nights. Yet a few short weeks ago she too was at war. She has not changed outwardly in those years since '39 and today her houses are unscarred.

The centuries-old church still stands guardian over those who once worshipped there and children still fish in the river down by the meadow. But underneath there are changes, changes due to war and there are some who will never sleep their last sleep in the shelter of the ancient yew trees, for they lie forever in the soil of Normandy or in the desert sands.

When the lamps went out all over Europe for the second time in twenty five years they went out in our village too. All the petty annoyances of a country at war had their place in her life as well. Those gasmasks were in evidence, evacuees came in their streams, duly ticketed and clutching a few belongings, and complete darkness descended at sundown, broken only by those chinks in a hastily made blackout. The boys disappeared in ones and twos and the next time they were seen they wore khaki, navy or air force blue.

The radio news bulletins were a regular feature of village life and very few people missed one, in the first months of a "phoney" war. But things felt at a standstill when Hitler started his "blitzkrieg" in the perfect summer weather of 1940. Then the village sprang to life, men sat on lonely hills armed with walking sticks, through the short hours of a summer night, their tired eyes searching the skies for a sign of clouds of white against that velvety background.

Through the months of an uneasy summer the Nazi war machine crashed on its way and the counterparts of our village in Belgium, Holland and France heard the heavy tread of jack-booted feet over their cobble-stoned roads. Although Spitfires and Hurricanes did not claw Heinkel and Dornier from the skies over our village we watched with equally anxious hearts the outcome of those deadly minutes of battle. Then the bombers came with their cargoes of death and it was not long before the ominous thunder of enemy engines filled the scented air of our starry autumn nights. Many held their breath uneasily and many a heart beat slightly quicker. Where were "they" going this time and who would never see another dawn?

The months flew on and convoys of strange vehicles roared over those cobblestones where once the stage coach rattled. They looked so out of place, those modern giants thundering past the sleepy old cottages. The soldiers from the New World dashed through on their way south to war and brought echoes of another army many years before, the kilted Highlanders of Prince Charlie in 1745. They too went south, but not to victory. The old street looked as peaceful as ever in this backwash of a modern world; and though it did not shake to the thudding of bombs and battles were not fought in her fields, uneasy echoes of countries in turmoil were born on the breeze from afar.

Now in Europe it is all over and the last of her wartime visitors have gone away, taking with them memories of a different kind of life, a life they never realised existed, in their pre-war city minds. The old village can settle down in peace again and everything looks the same. But underneath, there are hearts which remember someone now lying at sea, there is a part of another's life in the soil of a foreign field and when a troopship sails for the east, some hearts in our village sail too.

Vicar's Letter...

Lost and Found

If you walked through Burton just before Easter you may have noticed sheep sheltering in various windows in the village, looking a little lost. Fortunately some children were willing to use part of their Easter holiday to search for the sheep and to report their whereabouts to us when they arrived at our 'Lost and Found' Holiday Club.

The Club was run by a team from the churches in Holme and Burton and was held in the Burton Memorial Hall. About 30 children from both villages came for teaching, games and other activities. Over the three days we heard three stories that Jesus told to explain his own mission. He is like a shepherd who leaves the flock while he searches for a sheep that is lost. He is like a woman who loses a silver coin but who turns the house upside down until the coin is found. When a son walks out of a family and makes a mess of his life, Jesus is like the father who longs to be able to welcome his wayward son back into the heart of the family.

With each story Jesus is explaining why he, a man whose life was beyond criticism, gained a reputation for eating and drinking with those thought to be less-than-wholesome. Jesus says that no-one should be surprised – that is exactly what he came for, to find those who have distanced themselves from God and bring them back into his family.

In Jesus' story, there is also an apparently loyal older brother who ends up outside the family; he is self-righteous (unable to see that he too is lost) and angry with his father for forgiving his brother. Jesus is challenging us: Do you think it is a good thing that I'm finding lost people or not? Are you with me or against me?

Our 'Lost and Found' Holiday Club was a small part of the task that Jesus gives: to let everyone know that he is searching for lost people to bring them home to himself; he loves doing this.

"The Son of Man (that's Jesus) came to seek and to save lost people" (Luke 19:10)

Sincerely
Graham Burrows

Family Fun and Sports Day
Monday 25 May

Not long now till this years sports day and we are working hard behind the scenes to make sure this years family fun day and parade is one to remember. We are hoping and aiming for the same success of last year (with the weather also) and have lots of new ideas for all ages to be able to enjoy. For this to happen we need to see plenty of floats and with the theme being Disney /Disney Pixar we want to see loads of colour, imagination and people getting involved.

The floats should gather at the bottom of Green Dragon Lane for 11.30am ready for judging. This year's judges are Kathleen and Hedley Stephens. Once judging is done the floats will start to make their way round the village up to the recreation field for an afternoon of family fun, games and races. The parade will be lead by the Rose Queen - Charlotte Thompson. Her attendants are Grace Stephens and Kelly Armer, and the Rosebuds are Daisy Braithwaite and Katie Armer.

Once the afternoon's fun and games are finished we head to the Memorial Hall for the family disco which starts at 7pm. This is where the winners of the floats will be announced and race winners from the afternoons races get their trophies. This year at the disco there will be a tuck shop and raffle as normal but we ask that adults bring their own drinks.

If anyone wants a stall on the day please get in touch with Nicola Stephens on 01524 782886 or email michaelstephens74@googlemail.com.

For the day to run smoothly the more helpers the better, so if anyone can help please get in touch.

We do need to collect in last year's winners' trophies so we need them handed back to us by the 15 May - they can be handed to any Sports Committee member or can be dropped off at 22 Glebe Close before the cut off date.

BURTON W.I.

At their April meeting Burton WI had a change of speaker and the members enjoyed an interesting talk by Margaret Watkins on her aunt's hat shop in Lancaster. She brought with her a variety of hats and members enjoyed stepping back in time and modelling them.

The competition for a scarf was won by Ann Rickerby, May Reid was second. Raffle prizes were won by Audrey Frost and Paula Firth.

Also at their meeting members took the opportunity to wish Hilda Boldy, a very popular and long serving member of Burton WI, every happiness on her leaving the village to move to Grange to be near her daughter.

Hilda has lived in the village for 58 years and will be greatly missed. She was presented with flowers and a card, signed by all the members, and all enjoyed a celebratory piece of cake.

At their May meeting the subject will be Resolutions and members will vote. This will be followed by Jackie Huck discussing "How to drop a brick without really trying."

The competition is for a limerick "A WI member from Burton...". Hostesses will be Christine Metcalfe and Helena Nixon.

To find out more about any the services which Age UK South Lakeland can offer older people, please contact Ruth Taylor via our helpline number on 01539 728180 or come along to see her at the Memorial Hall during the coffee morning on Monday 1 June between 10am and 11am.

Roger Reports...

from the District & County Councils

As you will be receiving your Burton News in the week of the General Election I will even more than usual refrain from political matters. I will clarify, however, the situation regarding the district council election which will also be on 7 May. The Burton and Holme Ward has two district councillors. One is myself who has represented you since I was the youngest (!) councillor way back in 1984.

Following the growth in population Burton has had for the last eight years two district councillors who are elected on different years. My colleague Brian Cooper's seat will be contested this year and my seat will come up again next year. The election for the Lower Kentdale county council seat that includes Burton, which I concurrently hold, will come up again in 2017. But in 2018 all the seats will be contested as there will be boundary changes. Even if our ward's bounds are not changed we will still have to have an election.

This has happened before and in one stretch between 2005 and 2014 we had elections every year which included Police and European Elections as well as parish, district and county elections. Apart from producing election fatigue amongst the electorate and activists it diverts attention away from serving the people onto political campaigning, which as well as being expensive can be boring and, therefore, counter productive. At the very least I would hope that we could have both district elections on the same day. But please let me know what you think?

Following the contentious budget debates in February and March the councils in April were relatively quiet.

My own most controversial involvement was contributing to the Planning Committee debate on the proposed Crematorium near junction 36 at Crooklands. Although I am not on the committee I was allowed to speak for three minutes as I am the local councillor.

While I acknowledged that a J36 Crematorium would be more convenient for us than the current slow journey with nine sets of traffic lights to Torrisholme, I thought that a Crematorium further north would be strategically more sensible for the population of Kendal, Windermere, and especially Ambleside and central Lakeland which are over 30 miles from the Lancaster and Barrow crematoria. I also thought that the site, in the middle of a transport hub, would be too noisy for a place of repose and that it had access and flooding problems.

Incidentally, I was pleased to see during the floods on 30 March that the drainage repairs at Clawthorpe and Neddy Hill were effective. I hope we will be able soon to rectify similar problems near The Creamery and elsewhere. Please continue to keep me informed. At the Quarry Liaison meeting we were also informed that county Highways are about to tackle (again) the flood problem on the A6070 near Holme Park.

Locally, on planning, I have conveyed some of the views expressed at the public meetings concerning Church Bank and I will also hold the developers to their undertaking to bring the whole road up to "adoption" standard. I have, also, asked a planning officer what he meant by "consultation responses in assessing vertical infrastructure development proposals." Clearly I've not got far with my plain English campaign.

Best Wishes
Roger

Swifts heading for Burton

Our pair of Great Grey Shrikes decided to leave Hutton Roof on Easter Monday (6 April), and hopefully will now be back safely on their breeding grounds in the Scandinavias. One of the birds actually over wintered with us for 137 days whilst the other bird stayed for 18 days. This is a sign of just how mild this winter must have been.

I had my first Swallow hawking over the Trig Point on 9 April, although I did have a reliable report of a single bird over Hutton Roof as early as 21 March.

One of the Chiffchaffs at Plain Quarry returned on the 27 March which is about two days later than norm but the other Plain Quarry bird came in on 8 April.

First Willow Warbler on Uberash Roughts on 8 April, but the following day produced "A confusion of Willow Warblers" at the same site with at least six birds.

The first Greenland Wheatear (of the Oenanthe O. Leucorrhea race) appeared at their regular dropping in place on Dalton Craggs on 8 April and we have had some good counts throughout the month the best being a party of 16 birds on 16 April. They drop in during the hours of darkness and will usually just stop with us throughout the following day, sometimes stopping a little longer if there has been a good crane fly hatch or other good feeding is found nearby.

First House Martins had returned by 16 April on Dalton Hall Business Centre.

Lots of reports of Redstarts having arrived locally and by now the Tree Pipits will have been seen to adorn the slopes of Dalton Craggs (upper).

The next celebrated bird to arrive will be the Cuckoo which is usually heard calling over Dalton Craggs on or about the 1 May.

Also any day now our village Swifts will be arriving (expected between the 4 - 8 May), usually first heard with their screeching calls whilst they chase one another in the skies above Main Street or over the Burton Memorial Hall. We will hopefully be monitoring the Swifts on their arrival and should anyone have information of local Swift nesting sites the information would be most

The article below is published at the request of the Burton in Kendal Parish Council and comprises the text of a letter sent to SLDC and the developers after the Public Meeting on 5 March. The Annexes referred to in the article are not included here but copies may be sought from the Parish Clerk, whose contact details are at the foot of the article.

PROPOSED DEVELOPMENT ON LAND TO THE EAST OF HUTTON CLOSE, BURTON-IN-KENDAL

On 5 March 2015 Burton-in-Kendal Parish Council facilitated a public meeting to allow residents and the land-owner, Mr Simm, to discuss the proposed housing development on the land to the east of Hutton Close detailed at paragraph 3.92 of the Land Allocations Document. Notes of the meeting taken by the Parish Clerk are attached at Annex A. Mr Simm presented his current proposals for the development of 29 dwellings on the site and, as detailed in the report, accepted questions and comments from the residents.

Residents were invited to put their concerns in writing to the Parish Council following the meeting. The letters received are listed and attached at Annex B. Mr Simm also wrote to the Parish Council after the meeting, at Annex C, with some revisions to his original proposals.

The Parish Council have directed that I write to inform SLDC of the meeting, and to record for all addressees the subsequent written submissions of the residents, and the views of the Parish Council.

There are four main areas of concern with the revised proposed plan: the inadequacies of the the access road and its junction with the A6070, the lack of footpath access for future residents of the site, the impact the site layout will have on neighbouring properties and the longer distance views, and the biodiversity of the site.

Access on to the A6070

Church Bank Gardens is the only access road for the site. It is an unfinished and unadopted road. It has a steep gradient where it meets the A6070 which is itself on a gradient. The developer has proposed that development would not start until Church Bank Gardens was brought up to standard and adopted. He proposes a mini-roundabout at the junction with the A6070. Residents believe that, unless the gradient of the junction can be reduced, the mini-roundabout would increase the risk at the junction especially during icy conditions. In any event a simple painted roundabout on a straight A road will be inadequate.

County Council speed monitoring on the A6070 in this location shows that the 30mph speed limit is ignored by motorists. The Parish Council believe that there is scope to make the junction safer by creating a landscaped village entrance in this area which would have the effect of calming traffic and importantly allow a usable footway and safe bus stop to be created.

The Parish Council will seek to ensure that SLDC and the County Council insist that an appropriate solution to the junction is agreed and implemented, before work on the site begins. Also that SLDC impose and enforce a condition on any planning approval given to any development, that a road adoption agreement is agreed and put in place before any development commences and that Cumbria County Council adopt Church Bank Gardens, the new estate road, and any footpaths before the first occupation of any dwellings on the proposed development.

Pedestrian Access

The Land Allocations Document makes it clear that pedestrian access is a concern for this site and that the plan should address pedestrian access to the village. This has not been done. Unless this is done the Parish Council believes that there is a danger of creating a development effectively dependent on cars for access to village amenities which, as the crow flies, are nearby. Despite what it says in the Land Allocations Document the South East Corner of the site does not join a public bridleway. The bridleway adjoins a field which adjoins the bridleway. The plan proposed by the developer does not incorporate access to the bridleway. It is also important to note that using the bridleway to access the village would involve a significant uphill walk from the site to the path and then down into the village. It is not an appropriate path to consider for access to the village. It would however provide access to the fell. There is a second narrow footway, described oddly as an alley in the Land Allocations Document. This is a narrow passage which is not wide enough for prams or wheelchairs. It exits onto Main St onto a narrow pavement just passed a blind bend. It is not a suitable solution. Pedestrian access down Church Bank Gardens onto the A6070 is possible however, like the bridleway, it takes residents out of their way. If this were to be considered the only viable route then considerable effort would need to be put in to safe movement of pedestrians across the A6070 and widening of the pavement between the junction and the Church to allow safe passage into the village centre. The new site lies between the village and an employment site and nursery school at Clawthorpe. It would be sensible to construct the footway to Clawthorpe as part of the work to allow safe pedestrian movement around the village.

The Parish Council will seek to ensure that safe and convenient pedestrian access to the village amenities is viewed by SLDC as an essential condition of the development, and that this pedestrian access is completed before first occupation of any dwelling on the proposed development.

Site Layout

The Land Allocations Document called for a good site layout, design and landscaping to minimize the impact on views from adjoining properties and on longer distant views. At the meeting residents expressed their concern at the design and layout of the site. Particular concerns were raised that houses were planned immediately adjacent to existing bungalows and that these would have an overbearing impact especially on the low lying bungalows of Hutton Close. Subsequent to the meeting the developer proposed an alternative plan which replaced blocks of Semi-detached houses close to Hutton Close with detached and spaced houses with single story garages. The Parish Council remains concerned that the developer is not following the guidance in the Land Allocations Document. There is no obvious reason why houses should be planned to be built so close to existing bungalows contrary to the planning guidance.

It is also of great concern to residents and the Parish Council that the design of the site and the dwellings has not made any significant attempt to reduce the impact on the view of the village when approaching from the north. The properties are all standard estate designs and the result will be that the view from the north will be dominated by the new estate. The only landscaping proposed is a reduction in the height of the land adjacent to the Vicarage Lane properties, this in itself has caused concern to residents of the physical effect the landscaping will have on their property. There is also concern that the land drainage has not been considered in the design. In recent years a number of heavy rainfall events in the area have caused problems from inadequate top water drainage. The Parish Council would expect that to be addressed in any new development planned for the village.

A further concern raised by residents was the siting of the play area which it was felt was rather hidden in a corner of the site where it is hoped trees and hedges will be retained. The Parish Council believes that there is space for a significantly larger play/recreation area in a more open part of the site.

Safeguarding the Biodiversity

The Land Allocations Document notes the scope to safeguard the biodiversity of the site by retaining hedgerows and trees and retaining woodland within the development. It is disappointing therefore that the design removes all the hedge and trees along Church Bank Gardens. This will not only reduce the ability of the site to support biodiversity but also remove natural screening between the new site and existing properties. The measures put in place to protect the biodiversity of the site should be addressed in the plan for the site.

The Parish Council will seek to ensure that SLDC will impose and enforce a condition of any planning permission granted for any development is put in place to protect, conserve and enhance the biodiversity of the site.

St James's Easter Holiday Club 'Lost and Found'

Over 30 children attended the Easter Holiday club, the first to be hosted by the Reverend Graham Burrows and his family. Clearly a lot of thought and effort had gone into arranging an interesting programme of events by Graham with a dedicated committee, plus 6 teenagers who helped during the three morning sessions.

New songs were learned accompanied by a talented young music group, three short parables in the context of 'Lost and Found' were narrated and explained by three storytellers with the able assistance of a lively group of puppeteers, prompting interesting questions from the children about loss, discovery and forgiveness.

Each day, after the stories were told questions asked and answered the children happily went off to take part in crafts, activities, quizzes and organized games.

Many thanks are due to everyone involved in this event: the organisers, musicians and puppeteers, the willing teenagers who helped with the youngest children in particular and all others in general. The stalwart dispensers of soft drinks, the generous people who helped finance the event and the village residents who displayed a little sheep in their windows during these last weeks including the village store and the butchers' shop. To Margaret and Michael Carr for their time and commitment, Burton Memorial Hall Committee for their assistance.

Finally, extra special thanks to each and every one of the children of Burton who attended, all of whom were well-behaved, curious, keen to learn and interested in everything during this enjoyable and popular Easter event.

Editorial...

Phew!

What a month this has been, on many levels. First you will notice that this is yet another jam-packed issue - loads of fascinating articles - we actually had more than we have space for so one has been held over until next month!

Another Phew! for the weather too...

This April has been very changeable, with big swings between t-shirts/shorts and woolly jumper days. The daffodils and blossom trees have erupted into bloom with the warmth, and the garden is full of birdsong. The frogs too have finally decided it is safe to produce frogspawn yet some nights have been quite chilly and as I write this there is a topping of frost on the car and garage roofs. Let us hope it stabilises soon!

A third Phew! for you...

This is a Phew! at the amount of money raised over the last month or so for village groups and societies. It is so good to see all the support for village societies like Rainbows, Brownies and Guides, and for the Memorial Hall. Your support for all the events and for Burton News itself is what makes Burton such a great place to live, so a huge thank you all round.

BURTON MEMORIAL HALL

THANK YOU!

A big thank you to everyone who came along to the recent Fashion Show at the Memorial Hall in aid of Hall funds; also to Janet from Foxy Lady Fashions at Kirkby Lonsdale, and her team of models and helpers, who provided the outfits and the super show; and all the Hall volunteers who made the nibbles, manned the bar, and set everything up before the show and took it down again afterwards. Also a big thank you to Gill and Akis for selling tickets for us once more, to BADS for the loan of the catwalk, and to everyone else who helped in any way in making the night such a success. It raised almost £700 for Hall funds which is fabulous!

Our next event will be the annual Strawberry Saturday, which this year will take place on Saturday 4 July between 2pm - 4pm. We do hope that you will come and enjoy our feast of strawberryiness!

News from the Lancaster Canal

At the recent Preston Richard Parish Community Plan launch day at Endmoor Village Hall we were rewarded with a very good response from the public. A lady farmer remembered, as a girl, the boats going past their farm and running to wave them on. Our work at Stainton Crossing to Sellet Hall was much commented on, and a local garage proprietor promised to look out his family photographs showing the gunpowder wagon way to Wakefield's gunpowder wharf, particularly where it crossed the river Peasey. These pictures have never been seen outside his family.
